Inquest Into Fire Deaths Is Postponed

BURLEY—The inquest scheduled for Friday into the March 25 fire which claimed the lives of three small Burley children has been postponed until Tuesday.

Officers said the inquest, which has been pending completion of an intensive investigation by Steve Kennedy, fire investigator from Ogden, was postponed because Kennedy was unable to be here today.

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Tanfield died as the result of a fire the evening of March 25 at their three-bedroom rental house at 1542 Almo Ave., while the parents were both at work.

The children were Debra Ann, 8, Gerald, 5, and Jimmy, 3. Dr. Leslie Fillmore, a Cassia county coroner, said the report of the special fire investigator will be made at the inquest.

Rocket Fails To Ignite, Probe Begun

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Space agency officials combed through bundles of data today in search of why a Centaur rocket failed to properly ignite a second time Thursday night, causing a possible setback in the U.S. man-in-space program.

The failure showed that U.S. scientists have not yet proved they can tame liquid hydrogen fuel in space—a concept which this nation must realize before it can commit astronauts to go to the moon, send heavy payloads to the planets or soft-land instruments on the moon the year around.

An Atlas booster successfully propelled the hydrogen-fueled Centaur upper stage 88 miles above the earth, where the Centaur's two engines burned for 325 seconds and placed it and a dummy surveyor soft-lander moonship into a planned 100-mile-high parking orbit around the earth.

After a 25-minute coasting period in this orbit, Centaur was to have ignited a second time, burn 107 seconds and hurl the dummy spacecraft to a make-believe moon 236,000 miles from earth.

Instead, NASA said, apparently only one of Centaur's two 15,000-pound-thrust engines ignited. It only burned 17 seconds and kicked both the surveyor model and the Centaur into an oval-shaped orbit of 101 to 186 miles.

Aide Says Idaho Still Has Deficit

BOISE (AP)—Idaho still has a general fund deficit of some $8.5 million, State Auditor Joe R. Williams reported Thursday.

But he described the state's financial condition as "not bad. We're in rather healthy condition."

Williams said as of March 31, Idaho has spent $187 million. He said of the total deficit, $1,725,000 was in outstanding tax anticipation notes.

Last month, Williams added, general fund expenditures totaled $2.5 million with $1.7 million going for salaries.

Blaze Hits Cruise Ship, 470 Rescued

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A vicious fire raged uncontrolled through the cruise ship Viking Princess today, driving the reported 485 passengers and crew members from the Miami-based vessel. The Coast Guard reported 470 were rescued, 1 was dead and 10 missing. The survivors—including the ship's veteran Norwegian captain, chief officer and navigator—were plucked from the gently rolling Atlantic Ocean by three merchant vessels. The $16-million Viking Princess was reported blazing fiercely, a towering column of smoke marking its death throes in the Windward Passage between Cuba and Haiti.

"All (survivors) are in good shape," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The German freighter Cap Nord picked up 376 survivors and one body, the Liberian freighter Navigator rescued 81 and the Chinese ship, a Nationalist Chinese merchant ship, saved 13 more.

Lt. David Carey, a Coast Guard public information officer, said:

"A boarding party from the cutter Cook Inlet searched the after end of the ship and we do not believe any survivors are left aboard."

The Coast Guard, Navy, U.S. Customs and the ship's booking agency agreed the Viking Princess carried 235 passengers, but figures on the crew varied from 248 to 260.

Carey said two ships were searching for other possible survivors in a 20-mile radius and the area was being crisscrossed by rescue planes.

The three ships carrying survivors were reported steaming for the U.S. Navy Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The cruise ship was commanded by Capt. Otto Thoresen, a veteran of 30 years at sea.

Interference In Emergency Calls Rapped

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Twin Falls city manager, Friday charged there is an increasing amount of interference with fire and police department activities caused by uncooperative citizens, and threatened a crackdown if the situation is not corrected.

Derrick said throngs of spectators at recent fires have hindered the fire department's actions. Further, he noted, fire trucks have been halted by vehicles whose drivers fail to pull to the curb when a siren is heard.

Derrick laid part of the blame on local radio station broadcasts of the location of fires, broadcasts that direct spectators to the scene.

"It is a fact that when people hear these things they do go to a fire. We know they do," he said.

Although he noted the people viewing a fire meant no harm, they unwittingly are a hindrance—which could be a matter of life or death, he said.

He said a fire truck was halted three times last Friday as it made its way slowly to the scene of a fire, slowed by motorists who failed to respond to its siren, causing considerable delay.

"If we can't appeal to people," he said, "We're going to have to get tough as the dickens."

He said persons interfering with fire department vehicles may be given citations, and citations may be given bystanders at the scene of a fire.

He noted that up to now citations have not been given in such cases.

"The fire department doesn't want to get involved with police action. None of us do," he said.

Breshnev Is Re-Elected as Party Boss

MOSCOW (AP)—Leonid I. Brezhnev was re-elected unanimously today to head the Soviet Communist party as the party ended an 11-day congress which brought little change in policies or leadership.

Brezhnev announced to the closing Kremlin session of the party's 23rd congress that he had been chosen party general secretary, the most important job in the Soviet Union.

The congress changed the title from first secretary, which Brezhnev had been since the ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev in October 1964. General secretary was Stalin's title.

The party's two key groups, the Politburo that sets policy for the party and the Secretariat that carries it out, retained practically the same members as before the election earlier today by the Central Committee.

Recovery of Bomb Almost Disastrous

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP)—The commander of a U.S. task force disclosed today disaster almost overtook attempts to recover an H-bomb from the depths of the Mediterranean.

Missing since the crash of a nuclear bomber last Jan. 17, the one-megaton bomb was hauled up from 2,850 feet Thursday.

Silvery in color and about 10 feet long by 3 feet thick, the bomb rested on the deck of the rescue vessel Petrel. Reporters aboard the task force flagship, the cruiser Albany, could see it from about 65 feet away.

Rear Adm. William S. Guest, commander of the task force of about 3,000 men that recovered the H-bomb, told newsmen the CURV—an unmanned torpedo vehicle—was used to tie up the bomb for delivery to the surface.

He disclosed that the effort almost ended in disaster on Wednesday when the CURV became entangled in the nuclear weapon's parachute.

It took two hours of maneuvering by the CURV controller on the deck of its mother ship before the vehicle was freed.

Guest estimated the bomb's weight at about eight tons. It appeared undamaged except for some dents at one end.

Guest said it would be returned to the United States immediately.

Curfew Imposed In Kowloon Riot

HONG KONG (AP)—The government imposed a new curfew and ordered more troops and police into riot-torn Kowloon today as fear mounted that new violence would follow the death of a Chinese, shot when police fired on rioters.

Chinese mobs, mostly teenagers, burned, smashed and looted early today in the second straight night of demonstrations against a proposal to raise the fare on the Hong Kong MTR ferry by about one U.S. cent.

2,000 Youths Continue Rioting in Saigon Area, Several Americans Hurt

SAIGON (AP)—Buddhist monks led 2,000 demonstrators into the heart of Saigon tonight in the worst day of anti-American violence in seven days of rioting. A dozen Americans were beaten, manhandled, or chased by the mob. Five U.S. servicemen and two Vietnamese women were injured slightly by a grenade lobbed into a soft drink stand at Starcom, a U.S. communications center in west Saigon.

As the column of jeering, banner-waving youths surged downtown from the Buddhist Institute in the southwestern part of the capital, fully armed government paratroopers backed away. But riot police eventually waded into the mob, lobbing tear gas grenades and scattering the demonstrators in side streets.

There, the angry youths formed knots again, and there was every indication of another night-long rampage to force the overthrow of military government.

The demonstrators looted a home occupied by a U.S. American serviceman, opposite the Buddhist Institute. They tore up furniture and drove six U.S. servicemen into the streets where they were manhandled. Vietnamese paratroopers who arrived at the scene laughed and joked with the demonstrators as the U.S. soldiers made their way through the crowd carrying a few personal belongings.

U.S. military police jeeps stationed nearby drove them to safety.

A short time before, a mob of 500 youths assaulted two Americans, one of them a serviceman, and chased a U.S. sailor into a house near the Buddhist Institute. There was no word of any injuries to the Americans.

The mob also overturned and set fire to a police jeep and tossed two dud grenades.

Some club-wielding youths pulled an unidentified American civilian from a taxi in front of the institute earlier in the day, and beat him. He fled with unknown injuries.

It was the second day of personal violence against Americans.

2 Detectives Resign From Force in T. F.

City Detectives Tim Qualls and William Vickers resigned Thursday after what Police Chief Frank Barnett termed a long-time personality conflict with junior patrolmen. Qualls, who has been with the department for 15 years, said the main points of issue, when taken to H. L. Derrick, city manager, were that he (Qualls) and Barnett ate lunch together every day. He said the young patrolmen also were angry because he wouldn't let them do most of the groundwork at burglaries, and he didn't give enough classes.

Qualls said he told them he would give them as many classes as they wanted and even scheduled one for which every man on the swing and graveyard shifts signed up.

Qualls said the next day one of the men on the day shift went around and reprimanded every man who had signed up for the course, with one exception.

Qualls said the officers involved in this issue have been holding meetings in secret trying to design ways to get him relieved. The day before this issue came to a head, according to Qualls, one of the officers confronted Qualls and told him what had been going on and said he was sorry for being in on such a "dirty" maneuver.

Qualls said by that time the machine already had been put into gear and it was too late to stop it.

Qualls said the officers involved in this even complained because he and Barnett sat together at Howard Gillette's funeral earlier last week.

Derrick refused to comment on the matter because he said this was a personality conflict and he did not want to have it dragged through the news media. Derrick would not say whether or not the two detectives would have been fired had they not resigned.

He said their resignations were not forced, but there may have been things leading up to a forced resignation.

Qualls said he didn't want to make a big thing out of this because it would make him appear in a bad light, but he said he would like to have the officers try and find one specific issue, then try to prove it.

Qualls said he has no intention of trying to contest the issue. He said he has a 16-year-old son whom he has taken hunting only once in his life, and, said Qualls, maybe now I can find time to do more with my son.

Qualls said he plans to go into private investigation.

Viet Cong Toll Rises In Operation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division raised its toll of Communist dead to 438 today in Operation Lincoln on the Cambodian frontier after virtually wiping out a reinforced Viet Cong platoon.

The cavalrymen, sweeping around the Chu Phong Mountains 230 miles north of Saigon for two weeks, caught 30 to 40 Reds by surprise Thursday and killed 29 in a brisk fight.

Other American troops accounted for at least 15 Viet Cong killed near Tay Hoa as the war continued on the ground and in the air despite continued street demonstrations in Saigon and antigovernment unrest in the northern provinces.

Navy fighter-bombers from the 7th Fleet carriers Enterprise and Hancock caught 34 North Vietnamese cargo junks in open coastal waters Thursday.

Flying through partial cloud cover that has plagued raids on the north for days, the pilots sank 12 of the junks and damaged the others, the Air Force spokesman said.

Air Force jets destroyed three buildings and damaged three more in seven missions against supply areas 12 miles north of the 17th Parallel frontier, with South Viet Nam, pilots reported. Six miles farther north, they set off secondary explosions that sent up a fireball and smoke 1,500 feet in an attack on a military supply depot at Quang Xa.

Urgent Meet On Rhodesia Set Saturday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The African president of the U.N. Security Council today set 10:30 a.m. Saturday for an urgent meeting on Rhodesia asked by Britain.

Ambassador Mousa Leo Keita of Mali informed Secretary-General U Thant of his decision—taken after an unprecedented sit-in demonstration by a majority of council members who wanted a meeting Thursday night.

British requested the meeting Thursday afternoon to ask for U.N. authority to use force to enforce economic sanctions against the rebel white minority regime in Rhodesia.

The British wanted immediate action so they could use force if necessary to prevent a Greek oil tanker from unloading her 18,000 tons of oil in Beira, Portuguese Mozambique, for transshipment to Rhodesia. The ship has been anchored in Beira since Wednesday.

Diplomatic sources said Keita was seeking the approval of the entire 36-nation African group before convening the session.

African states have been urging Britain to take military action against the regime of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith, who declared independence from Britain on Nov. 11 to preserve rule by the country's white minority.

Planning Is Started Over Bond Issue

A small core of workers met Thursday night at the College of Southern Idaho administrative offices to begin planning for the upcoming $3 million bond issue.

A complete committee has not been formed in preparation for the May 10 polling, but is expected to be named by early next week.

Campus planner Edwin Jones, Billings, Mont., met with the group and explained aspects of the proposed college campus, its financing and other needed information to be used in campaigning for a successful bond issue.

Among tasks facing the group will be to disseminate information to the district's voters. This will be accomplished through public speaking, brochure distribution and other publicity.

Radioactivity Level Is Low Around Arco

Operations of the National Reactor Testing Station at Arco during 1965 resulted in no significant increase in environmental radiation levels, according to the annual monitoring report.

Data from a monitoring network in and around the testing center indicate radioactivity is far below acceptable levels.

The only significant increase noted was during the latter part of May, when concentrations of iodine-131 in Idaho Falls area milk were reported 310 per cent above acceptable standards.

The concentrations, far below dangerous levels, were attributed to "fallout from the Chinese nuclear test on May 14, 1965," in the report.

Samples of air, water, milk and wheat are collected routinely to keep watch over the radioactivity levels around the Arco installation.

Youth Groups Do Good for Others at Easter Season

Members of the Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H Club visited patients of local convalescent homes to help them celebrate Easter with boxes of home-made cookies and entertainment provided by the 4-H'ers.

Typical of many groups working on Easter-time projects, the 4-H club members spent Thursday baking cookies—three dozen for each girl in the group—and packing them in boxes marked "Happy Easter."

Other active groups will conduct the annual Easter Lily Sale Saturday in the shopping districts of Twin Falls, according to Mrs. Merle Stoddard, director of the Easter Seal Center.

More than 80 high school and junior high girls, including Job's Daughters, Camp Fire Girls and Mutual groups will sell the white paper lilies from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The proceeds from the lily sale will be used to finance the activities of the Easter Seal Center. Mrs. Stoddard noted that contrary to the usual image of the "deadbeat" teen-ager, "We have a wonderful group of teen-agers, who buckle down and help."

Mrs. Fred Britt, leader of the Happy-Go-Lucky Club, said the club undertakes one community project each year. "But we thought we'd do it on Easter to give the people an extra lift this time of year."

Two years ago the club gave Easter baskets to children at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Master of ceremonies for the 4-H program was Edward Britt. Also participating in the program were Gail Peterson, Christine Britt, Karen Roberts, Vicki Huber, Patricia Lang, Anita Roberts, Beth Britt, Barbara Dillon and Marlene Kniefel.

The youngsters visited St. Benedict's Hospital, Sky View Manor and Hazel Del Manor with their packets. Scrap books were presented to children in St. Benedict's children's ward.

Prisoner Is Confined After Fight

BOISE (AP) — A convict serving two life sentences in the Idaho State Penitentiary was placed in maximum security confinement Thursday after an altercation in which three prison guards were injured.

Acting Prison Warden Mark Maxwell said Theodore Thomas Dickie, who told officers he killed three persons, "temporarily lost control of himself" and began grappling with a guard.

Injured were Capt. Mel Howard, Ira Gunn, director of prison industries, and Doran Griffith, laundry supervisor.

Maxwell said the incident resulted from a ruling that Dickie, who is employed in the prison laundry, no longer would be permitted to remain out of his cell past the regular lockup time each evening.

In the past, Maxwell said, Dickie has continued to work in the laundry in the evening hours, then was locked up at the same time as were prisoners who had been attending school classes.

"Dickie apparently heard of the decision and temporarily lost control of himself," Maxwell said.

Dickie jumped on Howard and wrestled him to the floor, Maxwell said, and managed to grab an iron bar. Gunn and Griffith went to Howard's assistance and other guards and inmates finally quelled Dickie, Maxwell said.

In the altercation Howard was hit on the back, Gunn on the leg and Griffith on the head. They were taken to a hospital for examination and X-rays.

Dickie, a transient laborer, entered the prison April 24, 1963, about a year after the first of the killings for which he was sentenced took place. That was the killing of Mrs. Nancy John Johnson, the wife of an airman at the Mountain Home Air Force Base, and her two-year-old son.

The second life sentence was for the death in Boise of Carolyn Rae Oldham, a 10-year-old Boise girl.

An airman at the Mountain Home Base, Gerald M. Anderson, was taken into custody following the killing of Mrs. Johnson and was held in jail for nearly a year before civil and military murder charges against him were dropped.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY
A weak flow of warm dry air continues over the states west of the Rockies, and little change is indicated in this part of the country today and tomorrow.

A broad low pressure area over the eastern Pacific and moving slowly toward the coast is expected to bring increasing clouds and perhaps a few showers to southern Idaho Sunday. No significant temperature changes are expected during the weekend and there appears to be no threat of freeze damage through Sunday.

There was little change in either afternoon or nighttime temperatures during the past 24 hours. Afternoon temperatures ranged from the middle 60s at the eastern end of the state and in some of the higher valleys to the high 70s and low 80s near the Oregon line, with Magic Valley again in the low to middle 70s. Soil temperature averages for the past 24 hours were, at three inches, Buhl, 55, and Castleford, 65, and at four inches, Kimberly, 53, and Rupert, 58.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST
Pressures will be somewhat lower over the Western States during the next five days and a series of weak disturbances will move through southern Idaho during the first half of next week. Temperatures will average two to five degrees above normal in southern Idaho. All sections will continue well above normal through Sunday, turning considerably cooler Monday through Wednesday. With increased cloud cover the greatest change will be in daytime temperatures. Normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Gooding 59-33, Twin Falls 63-33 and Burley 59-31.

Scattered showers Sunday or Monday through Wednesday will be mostly light, probably averaging .05 to .15 inch in southern Idaho.

Some increase in winds is likely after the first of the week, but no prolonged periods of strong wind appear likely. There will be considerable more cloudiness than during the past two weeks and sunshine will average perhaps 60 to 70 per cent of possible.

Most farm operations will be able to proceed with only brief interruptions by showers after the first of the week. Rainfall in these showers is expected to be mostly light and should not materially affect plans for early season irrigation.

TEMPERATURE AND PRECIPITATION
Highest temperature Thursday, lowest temperature last 12 hours, precipitation for 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. CST.

Welch Flays U.S. Policy In Viet Nam

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, says the Johnson administration is at war in Viet Nam simply to speed up "government regimentation" and "the transition to socialism and totalitarianism."

Welch said the war in Viet Nam would be over in three months if the administration had the will to win it. Welch told an overflow crowd of more than 600 at a banquet in his honor.

However, he said the Birch Society does not advocate U.S. withdrawal from Viet Nam. "The time is long gone when we could do that," he said, and added: "We should definitely go ahead and do what is necessary to win."

He told newsmen earlier the United States "is not trying to win the war in Viet Nam."

If we didn't have enough strength to win the war, why are we spending $40 to $50 billion a year on our armed forces?"

He said, "If we can't lick a bunch of puny, half-starved guerrillas in an area the size of the state of Missouri, then something is very wrong in the 'Pontang'."

Welch, a retired candy manufacturer from Boston, and the Birch Society have been vigorously opposed to a federal government they feel takes away individual freedom and is often subverted by Communists and Communist sympathizers.

A strong supporter of the society has been former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, though he says he is not a member. He was at the head table with Welch Thursday night.

Benson is also an apostle in the LDS Church which is holding its annual general conference in Salt Lake City this week.

The church's ruling body, the First Presidency, reiterated that the church and the Birch Society have no connection whatsoever.

Welch said that was true but added: "We have no better members or more loyal members than those whose first duty is to the Mormon Church."

He said Mormons may make good members because the society looks for persons who are patriotic and have good character, conscience and religious ideals.

Higher Social Security Benefits Eyed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said today he will ask Congress next year to increase all Social Security benefits and to consider extending some medicare-type benefits to the very young.

Johnson, who flew here from his ranch home to sign a bill extending the sign-up period for the voluntary part of medicare for the elderly, made his announcement in a speech at the outdoor ceremony.

Besides pledging to seek across-the-board boosts in Social Security payments to 21 million Americans, Johnson disclosed that Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner has been ordered "to create plans for a new program to assist in financing dental service for young children."

Asserting that "medicare need not be just for people over 65," the President said the dental aid would be for children under the age of 6.

White House sources said no decision had been made on whether the dental program would benefit all children or just those from low-income families.

2 Policemen Are Killed By Motorist

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — A motorist shot and killed two policemen Thursday night after they trapped him on a dead-end street and tried to give him a traffic citation.

Dead are Patrolmen Calvin Thacker, 36, and William Eastson, 31.

Most of Vallejo's 70-man police force, reinforced by sheriff's deputies and the California Highway Patrol, blocked all exits from this San Francisco Bay area city as well as two bridges.

Hunted was a restaurant worker at nearby El Cerrito, traced through a partly completed citation found beside a patrolman's body.

Police said their quarry has police records in Napa and Oakland and that he was once arrested in this county on an assault with a deadly weapon charge. His fingerprints and spent cartridges were found in an abandoned car, also traced through the citation.

An unnamed witness, attracted by the gunfire, said there were four persons in the car police had stopped—two men and two women.

French Police Crack Down On Beatniks

PARIS (AP) — "Simply shocking," said the young Englishman, "it's an abridgment of our personal freedom."

He had long, tangled blond curls and a gold ring in his left ear and he was talking about the current French police crackdown on beatniks.

"If this keeps up I'll probably go to Spain," he said, crossing one sandaled foot over the other.

The French have decided that long-haired, moneyless, jobless, and untidy visitors are not welcome in France.

A government announcement this week said foreigners answering to this description would be stopped at the frontiers.

The first known victim of this policy was a 20-year-old University of Edinburgh student who was turned back at Calais. He had long hair, a guitar and about $24 in his jeans.

Members of the international beatnik community here say police started showing their unfriendliness as long as a month ago.

"I get stopped about three times a day," said a young American. "They check your passport, ask what you're doing here and then let you go."

"A buddy of mine was taken to the police station the other day. They let him go after four hours. No explanation."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — I have just peeked, and discovered that women's Easter bonnets this year can be used for something besides the customary array of haunting of houses. They also can be worn to hunt lions in Africa.
This is by way of warning the American male that if he sees a stocky figure walking down the street wearing a slouch hat with a scarf dangling down the back it will not be that white hunter who owes him ten bucks, but a dame wearing the latest in chapeaux—to wit, the Safari hat.

JUST LIKE THE VELDT
The boss-lady of the posh hatteries I visited assured me that so many dolls will be wearing those hats on Easter Sunday that Main Street will look like the Kenyan veldt. She showed me several creations, all of which looked like they'd been left to the industry by the late Ernest Hemingway. They've got a high crown and the broad brim is turned down all the way around. Put a hat like that on a broad and she is going to hear native drums booming in the night and maybe take lessons in spear-throwing.
Another, similar, hat is apparently modeled after the headgear affected by remittance men in the tropics as they sit on the verandas and sip their stengahs. This has an even broader brim, also turned down. It is so turned down, in fact, that any woman who wears it will require the services of a Seeing-Eye dog to lead her around.

THE LEVEL LOOK — In point of fact, this season's female chapeaux lean heavily on the disguise motif. There is, among others, a Chinese coolie job of pink straw, with a bow in front. And, for all I know, a ricksha to match. A Malay stevedore would not be ashamed to wear another creation which has foot-long, wing-like projections at each side.
There is a hat that looks like a stove lid, but which is considerably more expensive — unless stove lids are going for $35 apiece these days. This is worn flat on the head to achieve what the hat lady called "the level look." Just hold your head deathly still and don't breathe and maybe it won't fall off.

BEWARE SHORT CIRCUITS — Then there is the hat with a floppy brim that looks as if it had been left out in the rain. This is called a "ripplie," and is supposed to be easy to wear, possibly, because it lacks not only a front and a back, but also sides. For $40 you can buy seven roses, a velvet bow and a veil. This covers one-tenth of the head and also is called a hat. For $20 you can buy a bowl of assorted spring flowers and wear this as a hat. What I called "that sun-bonnet over there" turned out to be something named a cloche. Some girls, I suppose, like to look like their grandmothers.
This year's color is not one, but a combination of bright colors called "electric." There are "electric greens," "electric pinks," "electric oranges" and "electric whatses." The hat lady tried on something in "electric green" and asked me "How's this?" She looked fine, but I bet she'd look better in a hat.

Views of Others

BIRD CENSUS
Beasts have been the symbols of American politics in the past—the Republican elephant, the Democratic donkey, the Tammany tiger, etc. — but this year the trend is definitely toward the birds.

A commentator recently wrote that President Johnson needed a wise, old owl in the White House to help him choose between the arguments of the hawks and the doves. Letter writers have added other ornithological descriptions of politicians they dislike, such as "chicken," "goose" and "ostrich," meaning, of course, that the men criticizing were cowardly, silly or unwilling to see what was going on around them.

Names of other birds have become associated with certain traits of the genus homo. "Gull," for instance, means a dupe. "Pigeon" has much the same connotation. Undoubtedly these and other bird names will be used widely as the campaign warms up and the candidates come out for or against the Johnson administration's foreign policy in Viet Nam and elsewhere.

Of great concern to the politicians is how the voting public is divided among the various feathered species. Are there more doves and chickens than hawks and eagles, or vice versa? And do birds of a feather really flock together, regardless of their normal roosting places among the elephants and the donkeys? Bird watching—and counting—will be a popular occupation between now and November.—The Oregonian.

ART OF PRAISING
Anyone who masters the art of praising will find it blesses the giver as well as the receiver. It brings warmth and pleasure into common places. It is a ray of sunshine brought into everyday living. Something good can be said of everyone. We have only to say it.

What people need is a little attention as human beings. In that attention sincerity is essential. That is what gives potency to a compliment. But we must be alert to recognize the opportunity and to realize that there is magic in a few words of praise.

Two simple principles of the art of praise are: a realization of the human need for it; and the usefulness of training ourselves to look for the praiseworthy. Learning the art of being kind helps to rub off the sharp edges of daily contact.—Brooks (Alta.) Bulletin.

HORSE REPLACES SNAKE
The Year of the Horse, according to the Chinese zodiacal cycle, has arrived. It has been celebrated appropriately when there are people who observe it. We cannot say what the Year of the Horse will bring. The Communist Chinese must also be in the dark, since the government there is seeking to discourage superstition and has chased the soothsayers underground.

Since the horse is used commonly as a symbol of work, it may mean that they are going to have to work even harder this year, or it may mean that there is going to be a need for more oats.

Anyway, we are glad that the Year of the Snake is over. It was a repulsive year.—Fort Worth Telegram.

FUNDS FOR THE FEW
One of the chief criticisms directed at the War on Poverty is that most of the money goes to professional poverty fighters. Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., has introduced one out of every 19 employees of the Office of Economic Opportunity is paid in excess of $10,000 a year.
The situation is different in other government agencies. At the Department of Defense, only one employee in 1,000 is paid so much.—Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier.

THERE'S THE ARMY WAY
An order on "What to do in case of fire" was posted in a U. S. Army officers' barracks bulletin board. It specified, "In case of fire, stand in hall and shout 'fire.'"—St. Petersburg Times.

POT SHOTS

NEW POLICY
Pot Shots has adopted a new policy concerning poetry. In recent months there has been a noticeable increase in contributions that don't meet the old test for poetry used in this corner. Call it blank verse, free expression or any other term that may come to mind. Some of it is excellent, but most of the new stuff is quite horrible.
Pot Shots has decided to use some of the so-called poetry, but each poem, as in the past, will be considered on its own merits. Readers would understand quickly if they could see some of the items contributed for publication.
Anyway, let's give it a try and see what happens. If there's a flood of the stuff, it can always be shut off again.

THEY WILL SPOIL
At Easter time, Pot Shots is likely to recall a little incident that happened years ago. It's an object lesson that parents should keep in mind if they have youngsters who like to save pretty things.
The little girl thought the eggs were too pretty to eat. She kept them around for days admiring them, but they eventually disappeared.
Some weeks after Easter, a strange odor started to develop in the house. It kept getting stronger and stronger, but didn't seem to have any particular point of origin.
One day the little girl's mother was "just straightening things up," but also trying to find the source of the odor. In the process, she emptied a dresser drawer. Yep, you guessed it—there were all the missing Easter eggs carefully cached away in a paper sack! (Hagerman)

OUR BULLETIN BOARD
Mrs. A. L. H. Buhl — Good advice, but Pot Shots tries to steer clear of that sort of thing. Too many times, there's an incident or something behind the advice that's not apparent to everyone. In other words, some readers try to get pointed messages across for the enlightenment of specific individuals. Thanks, anyway.

P.J.Y.: King Hill — Thanks, but there have been so many of them we're passing up all of them. Sorry.

I Observe, Twin Falls — You know good and well that's political and you also know it's an election year. Nice try, but we'll pass, thank you.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Religion Today

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
(AP Religion Writer)
Three hours...three days...three facets of God. That is the odd triplex of this Easter weekend. The events it commemorates seem measured in three's, like some steady, strange rhythm of life.
Biblical analysts have long noted that quality, but drawn few conclusions about it except that it reflects a consistency with reality from the trielemental nature of space and the atom to the threefold ways of Divinity.
Even a person combines three basic characteristics — the physical senses, the abstruse emotions and the intellect.
And that curious triple-point runs throughout the history-shaking drama which enveloped the great-hearted teacher of Nazareth, Jesus, in His fateful transaction with man.
As reckoned merely in human annals it forms a trilogy in time — an enduring past, a celebrated present and an incalculable future.
But in the instant, tangible events themselves, there also was that recurrent treble note, from the very beginning of the sequence until its culmination.
It seemed to have a three-strand pattern.
Three times, as Jesus prayed and wept in the Garden of Gethsemane before His arrest, His followers fell asleep, despite His plea for them to keep watch while He prayed alone a short distance away.
"What, could ye not watch with me one hour?" He said when He returned to find them dozing the first time. "Watch and pray," He urged anew. "The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."
But again, returning, He found them asleep. Finally, the third time it happened, He faced the moment when He had to go it alone.
"Sleep on now, and take your rest; behold the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is betrayed."
Three times, after His arrest,

His chief apostle, Peter, denied that he even knew the captive Galilean.
"Thou also was with Jesus," a servant observed as Peter skulked outside the house where Jesus was being interrogated.
"I know not what thou sayest," the apostle claimed.
But another servant then pointed him out. "This fellow was also with Jesus," "I do not know the man," Peter lied.
Again, an observer charged, "Surely thou art one of them, for thou art a Galilean."
A third time, cursing, Peter denied it.

Three men hung together on the crosses of Golgotha — Jesus and two thieves.
For three hours, as the Gospel of Mark relates, "there was darkness over the whole land," from noon until 3 p.m., when Jesus died.
For three days, He lay in the tomb.

But on the third day, the women found it empty, and heard the three reverberating words, "He is risen!"
On His third appearance before His disciples, in Transfiguration form, He gave His parting instructions to Peter. There, on a misty lake shore, Jesus asked three identical questions, and gave three similar responses — like minus and plus particles around a nucleus of love.
"Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me?"
"Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love Thee," Jesus said.
Again, they went through the same exchange, and the third time, after Jesus asked the question, Peter exclaimed with fervor, "Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love Thee."
"Feed my sheep," came the thrice-spoken mandate.
There was a peculiar repetitiveness about it, a sameness, yet a triplicity, like the strangely interwoven relationship that found chiefly in women who are over 50 and have borne several children, but these factors are absent in some victims. The underlying cause is a relaxation of the pelvic support of the bladder. In addition to laughing, coughing, sneezing or straining at stool will permit an involuntary leaking of urine.

When women with this complaint can be taught to contract their pelvic muscles and repeat this many times throughout the day, these exercises may result in better control. If this does not work the only cure is surgical repair.
Q—Would the constant use of Robaxin be harmful?
A—Methoarbamol (Robaxin) is given to relieve painful muscle spasms. About 10 per cent of those who take it complain of drowsiness, dizziness, blurred vision, headache, nausea and skin rash, but these usually clear up when the dosage is reduced. The drug is not habit-forming.

Q—Should a person carefully watching her cholesterol intake after a mild coronary attack, avoid nuts, particularly peanut butter?
A—The amount of cholesterol in nuts, vegetables and fruit is negligible.

Q—My trouble is seepage from the bladder, especially when I laugh. What can be done for it?
A—This very common and troublesome condition is known as stress incontinence. It is

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—I recently developed small bumps on the palms of both hands. My doctor says I have Dupuytren's contracture but he did not recommend any treatment. Would ultrasound help?
A—Dupuytren's contracture is a slowly progressing hereditary disease that starts with the tumors you describe on the palms. As the disease progresses the fingers are gradually pulled toward the palm and cannot be straightened out. This is due to a thickening of the strong fibrous sheath (palmar fascia) which lies between the skin of the palm and the tendons attached to the finger muscles.
Ultrasound, of value in some cases of bursitis, would be of no help. The only treatment is an operation in which, by careful dissection, the palmar fascia is completely removed. The operation should be performed early in the course of the disease. In many persons this gives a lasting cure but in others, through no fault of the surgeon, the condition returns.
Q—My trouble is seepage from the bladder, especially when I laugh. What can be done for it?

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
South Viet Nam disturbance headlines are being written by the hidden savage that has us by the throat.
We are applying American policy in a war-lord country.
The news from the five northern provinces (South Viet Nam's First Corps Region) must be read in those terms.
The men's strange names confuse us. But we're really not confused by the names of men. We're faced by a system.
The problem of a premier in an Asiatic war-lord country is that he can't live with the war lords and he can't live without them. And his stability does not depend on his democratic idealism. It depends on his control of the other war lords.
When President Kennedy announced to the world on Telstar TV that the Diem regime must go, an announcement unprecedented regarding the government of an Allied country, we threw ourselves out of the frying pan into the fire.
This was bad judgment and has cost us dearly. White House "credibility" likewise collapsed throughout Asia regarding our vaunted trustworthiness. In "The Lost Revolution" respected author Robert Shaplen categorically states that an American go-between was in close touch with the anti-Diem plotters and that the assassination coup was carried out with the full knowledge and consent of U.S. officials in Saigon and Washington.
Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara aggressively toured South Viet Nam's villages with Premier Nguyen Khanh to promote Khanh's popularity (non-existent) but Khanh promptly engaged in a dogfight with Gen. Maxwell Taylor and was thrown out of office.
On Feb. 19, 1964, former Communist intelligence chief Col. Albert Pham Ngoc Thao, whose brother, Gaston, is a leader in the Red Viet Cong, tried to seize power. He reportedly had northern war lord Liut. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi behind him. And that's the name to remember now.
Present young Premier Nguyen Cao Ky was never, of course, a ranking war lord. When Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge arrived in Saigon for the second time on Aug. 20, 1965,

Premier Ky was absent. He'd left that very day on a "previously scheduled" visit to Bangkok. Saigon observers agreed his action could be interpreted as a "window-dressing declaration of independence from U.S. control."
One purpose of President Johnson's Honolulu conference, with all its publicity, was to strengthen Ky's trust in us. Mr. Johnson's public praise and the worldwide photographs tended to make our commitment to Ky irrevocable.
Strengthened by this, Ky returned home and promptly fired Liut. Gen. Thi from the Saigon junta. In doing so he was firing the north's local war lord. And today's defections are manipulated by Thi.
I was in Canton, China, the terrible night the Communist Chinese army entered. Mao Tse-tung did not win China by Leninist slogans or by the prestige of Communism. Mao was, and remains, a Chinese war lord who was able to control the other war lords and hold their armies under him.
Mao won China by shouting, "China for the Chinese—throw out the white man!" America's ally, President Chiang Kai-shek, could not make that appeal. Had he been willing to turn on us in this way, Chiang—not Mao—would be China's leader today.
Then Mao took the next step. He distrusted the war lords and their armies, such as the Cantonese army, which served under Chiang and surrendered to Mao after Mao crossed the Yellow River. Mao systematically liquidated these generals and their troops, one by one, in the Korean War. He considered it good riddance for bad rubbish as he led them to their deaths against us.

In military terms, Mao actually emerged from his Korean intervention stronger at home and more solidly entrenched than before.
In the life of high crime known as Asiatic politics the age-old system of despotism, which is the oldest political system in the world, now passes under the name of Communism.
Premier Ky is caught, as the Romans had it: "In front, the wolf; behind, the precipice." We must handle these links in time. We're faced by the agonizingly hard task of double-pacification, and that's what the headlines are really saying.

SUIT PREFERENCE IS EXPERT SIGNAL
The suit preference signal usually occurs in secondary lead situations and is devised to tell partner which suit to lead back assuming he does get in. Specifically a high card calls for the higher of the two suits partner might shift to while a low card calls for the lower of the two suits available and an intermediate card calls for the suit of the trump.

He leads back a heart for his partner to ruff and the heart he leads back is the ten spot. This is clearly a high heart and a clear suit preference signal. He wants West to ruff and put him back on lead with a diamond, not a club.

If East had wanted a club return he would have led the deuce. If he had no preference he would have led the eight. West returns a diamond. East gives him a second ruff and South has lost four tricks before getting on lead to draw trumps.

Without the suit preference signal West might still have returned a "diamond" but it would have been a shot in the dark. The suit preference signal insured the correct return lead.

College Girls' Guide Unmasks Dating Habits of Eastern Male Collegiates

NEW YORK (AP) — A college girl's guide called "Where the Boys Are" unmasks the dating habits of male collegiates, but from Dartmouth to Rutgers the boys aren't going along with the appraisal.

In the words of one Princeton junior, Bruce McConnell, 21, of Pasadena, Calif., "if the young ladies don't like us, they really don't have to go out with us."

The 32-page book offering dating advice to college girls was compiled by staffs of student newspapers at Smith and Mt. Holyoke Colleges for women.

Tartly written to plunge daggers into the male ego, it is a reply to a book published last year at Princeton in which the boys had their say about the girls. That one was entitled "Where The Girls Are."

"Where The Boys Are" was written by two Amherst College seniors, Thomas G. Plate of Farmingdale, N.Y., and J. Aaron Latham of Tucson, Ariz.

"The boys provided the courage and raised the money to get the book published and we provided the information," said Marysha Cohen, 19, a Smith coed.

Said Plate: "We felt the girls needed a defender."

Latham said, "We met and listened to them gab about the guys they've dated — and then said down and wrote."

Here are some sample passages from "Where The Boys Are" and how they were greeted by the men:

Princeton: "The only place in the world where when a boy and his date walk past a mirror, it's the boy who stops to comb his hair."

Reaction: "A little more hair combing might be in order for a lot of schools around here, both the male and female variety," said Princetonian Frank Warren, 20, junior, of Danville, Va.

Harvard: "Always remember that if the Harvardman you're dating is wearing a three-piece suit as you walk into the Brattle Theater, he's wondering how you'll look next to him at some diplomatic reception in 10 years."

Reaction: "They're oriented toward finding husbands and they're pleased to believe we're thinking about what concerns them," replied John Gerhart, a Harvard senior from Abilene, Tex.

Columbia: "If you want to do the junior sophisticate bit around town, the Columbia boy is not for you, but don't take him for a pushover; anyone who's had to fight his way into a subway is tougher than any flimsy Ivy."

Reaction: "At Columbia the subway may be on strike, the electricity may be off, and the water rationed, but after all, eight million people live in this city. We must be doing something right!" retorted Columbia's Robert Merlis, 18, of Brooklyn.

Dartmouth: "The Dartmouth man is a masochist. He's marooned in the wilds of New Hampshire — so when another voice (yours), soft, charming, feminine, finally arrives, the timber wolf is bound to pounce."

Reaction: "The image of a Dartmouth man as a sex-hungry animal is inculcated in freshmen girls and is not founded on fact. It is what they want to believe."

Rutgers: "Berkeley east. That's what your date will think Rutgers is. He'll even try to dress the part. California jeans and longish, surfing hair."

Reaction: "The best generalization about Rutgers men is 'apathetic.' They gripe about everything, but don't do anything about it," said Rutgers sophomore Joe Brezin, 18, of Fair Lawn, N.J.

Most men agreed with A. G. Kasselberg, 20, Princeton junior from Memphis, Tenn., who said "men will take this about as seriously as 'Where The Girls Are,' that is to say, not at all."

However, one voice in the wilderness was raised by Allan Carl, 20, a Columbia junior from Little Rock, Ark.

"The girls are right, I know that all along. Half the guys I know are like that."

Blaine Aide Speaks on Redistricting

CAREY—Blaine county came out of the reapportionment squabble as well as could be expected under the circumstances. State Rep. Pete Cenarrusa told a county Farm Bureau meeting Tuesday night at the Jay Stroh home.

Cenarrusa, who was speaker of the House, described details of the legislative procedure.

Gordon Eccles, manager of the Silver Creek Supply Co., Picabo, announced his store has been chosen to handle the new Farm Bureau tires. He urged members to fill out the questionnaire sent by Mrs. Larry Peterson, secretary.

Maurice Ellsworth, Hailey, heads a new committee to study need for a marketing program in Blaine County. Other members are William Molyneux and Lowell Mechem. They are representatives for feed grains, potatoes and cattle.

The Power in the People Committee was asked to write to the Idaho congressional delegation requesting their support of amendments offered to the Administration bill on sending food overseas under the "Food for Freedom" program.

The Farm Bureau asks that qualifications be put on the program concerning food sent to Communist countries. Gene Fredrickson, Gannett, national affairs chairman, and Mrs. Pete Cenarrusa, state affairs chairman, will compose the letters.

A queen candidate will be sponsored for the Hailey Days of the Old West celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Wordell Rainey, Hailey, and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Lilya, Carey, will be co-chairmen of this program. Girls interested in competing should contact one of them.

Sen. Everett Dirksen's Reapportionment Amendment (SJR-103) was discussed. It was decided letters should be written to the congressional delegation on an individual basis.

Mrs. John Barton, Carey, and Mrs. Maurice Ellsworth, Hailey, are chairmen of the Talent Find. Anyone interested in participating should contact one of them.

The contest will be in June for the county, and later in the summer for the district. Participants must be members of Farm Bureau and in age group 12 to 16 or 17 to 30. The junior division state contest was won by Jeff Garante, Carey, in 1965.

Mrs. Raymond Kohne, Carey, will be in charge of the scrapbook, which is entered in competition at the state convention. Mrs. Philip Styhl agreed to study the safety program as suggested by the state women's committee and make recommendations for Blaine County activity.

The Women's Committee voted to contact the schools in the county concerning a textbook study. It has come to the group's attention that many textbooks are getting away from teaching Americanism and slanted by the authors toward other "isms." Farm Bureau philosophy, advocated by the women's committee, is more not less patriotism in the school and home.

Mrs. Cliff Orchard, Mrs. Pete Cenarrusa and Mrs. Larry Peterson will represent the women's committee on the political action committee. Farm Bureau must remain non-partisan and will study issues and hold "Meet the Candidate" sessions.

The next meeting will be held in the Hailey area May 3.

Warning Noted

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's commissioner of agriculture, Stanley I. Trenhaile, warned against purchase of any eggs—graded or ungraded—unless they are refrigerated in display cases.

Trenhaile said refrigerated eggs hold their quality better and, because they are perishable food products, are safer for consumers.

He said a regulation under Idaho's egg law states that all shell eggs shall be held under refrigeration.

ASSISTANT NAMED — WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler named a new assistant for public affairs, James F. King, 58, who has spent more than 20 years in government service.

Hoffman was selected as winner of the local Tempe Audition. He will have the chance to compete in the state Tempe contest to be held in Twin Falls April 24.

Sen. McGee Notes Impact Of Rioting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gale W. McGee, just returned from turbulent Viet Nam, says that if the Saigon government is toppled it will have a "tremendous impact" on a Congress already restive about the war.

The Wyoming Democrat returned from Asia Thursday and reported his impression to President Johnson in a 40-minute White House talk.

McGee told newsmen later that the rioting in Viet Nam is serious and admitted to a questioner "I don't know" whether the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky can survive.

McGee acknowledged in an interview that another change in Saigon leadership would give Congress' vocal peace wing more ammunition.

The administration critic "would say we shouldn't be there, that they don't want us. But they are putting the cart before the horse. The stability of Viet Nam's government is a secondary factor in the struggle over there."

"The primary factor," McGee argued, "is to restore the balance of Asia in the wake of the devastation from World War II."

Despite the political unrest, McGee expressed belief "the military prospect is excellent."

McGee, a strong supporter of Johnson's policy, said he didn't think any of the contending groups in South Viet Nam actually wanted to kick Americans out and were using "anti-American gimmicks" in their demonstrations to put heat on the government.

Two African Lions Shot Near Homes

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — City police shot and killed two full-grown male African lions Thursday night within an hour after they escaped into a residential area.

Police spotted the lions about five minutes after they got away from their cages two blocks away.

The first lion was shot and killed immediately, the other about half an hour later, police said.

The dispatcher at the Vancouver police station said the animals were "a little on the wild side" and had to be shot. He described the area where they were shot as mixed residential and light industry. Vancouver has a population of 35,000 in southwestern Washington across the Columbia River from Portland.

The lions were owned, police said, by Robert Hedges who kept them caged in back of where he lived at 42605 E. 5th St.

Police said they had no immediate explanation of why the animals were kept by Hedges.

$45,000 Ransom Said Available To Kidnaper

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The kidnaper of Daniel Goldman could now collect $45,000 for the boy's safe return.

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldman, say they have the $25,000 ransom money ready, friends have raised $15,000 and the Miami Herald has offered $5,000 for his safe return.

Goldman, 18, was kidnapped from his parents' home in the exclusive suburb of Surfside March 28. Police say the kidnaper has failed to make contact with the family.

Club Official Visits Declo Kiwanis Meet

DECLO — Lieut. Gov. Wayne O. Lewis of Division 5 paid his official visit to the Declo Kiwanis Club Monday at a luncheon meeting at Min's Cafe.

The text of his speech is the theme of Kiwanis for 1966, "A Call to Leadership." He stressed the importance of Kiwanians participating in governmental affairs and encouraging the free enterprise system in the U.S.

Magic Valley Christian College will be the scene of a Charter Night banquet April 21, honoring the organization of a new Circle K Club at the college, Lewis announced.

He encouraged members to attend the Kiwanis International convention in Portland, Ore., July 1-5, and to send in their reservations as soon as possible.

President Bruce Turner conducted the meeting and the invocation was given by Earl Darrington. Guests were Lawrence McCall and Carl Osterhout.

New Book Is Reviewed by T.F. Librarian

A new book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," by Ralph Nader, has been added to the Twin Falls Public Library and is reviewed by Robert Bruce, librarian.

Bruce said, "This is the book that made headlines in the daily newspapers across the country. General Motors Corp. made the headlines along with the book, especially when the GM president had to apologize for the harassment Nader had been subjected to by the automobile corporation."

"It is easy to see why many and all automobile manufacturers would be upset by this book."

Friday, April 8, 1966 Twin Falls Times-News 7

It asks questions and provides answers. It names names. Safety, smog and styling are only a few of the topics vital to all automobile owners on which Nader offers horrifying facts. "Most horrifying of all is the evidence offered as to the automobile manufacturers' stubborn resistance to all changes for the customers' best interests."

Drive Begins To Beautify Mailboxes

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON (AP) — About 13 million rural residents and 7 million city dwellers with curb-line mail delivery service were urged Thursday to beautify their mailboxes.

"If these boxes look their best, this can be an unusual and beneficial contribution to the natural beautification efforts of President Johnson and the First Lady," said Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

Proclaiming May 1962 as Mailbox Improvement Week, O'Brien praised those who have painted their mail receptacles in decorative colors and provided ornamentation such as ironwork representations of dogs and other animals. He noted that many have plants and flowers surrounding their boxes.

Jobless Families in North Carolina Transferred to Busy Industrial Areas

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina wanted to move the jobless from its mountains and coastal plains to the jobs in its midsection, the Piedmont.

The North Carolina Fund, an antipoverty agency, had the answer: Mobility.

"Mobility already has taken 279 families at the very bottom of the economic ladder and moved them, lock, stock and barrel, from areas of low employment to places where jobs are abundant."

"Employers in the Piedmont are crying for workers," said Robert Lofaso, director of Mobility. "Machines are standing idle. Some companies have taken their salesmen off the road because orders are piling up."

On the other hand, he said, "the eastern and mountain areas of the state are filled with people who need work."

Lofaso said Mobility makes sure there is a job waiting for a man before he and his family are moved.

Once the family is relocated, Mobility counselors help the wage earner so he does not swap one welfare roll for another. The counselors also help with relocation from rural to urban environments. This includes how to catch a bus, punch a time clock or enroll a child in school.

Lofaso says none of Mobility's clients has had to rely on welfare after relocation.

Begun as a project a year ago, Mobility originally planned to relocate families all over the nation. However, Lofaso said, "we soon found that there are jobs in North Carolina. It's just a matter of matching men with the jobs."

The U.S. Department of Labor recently approved a $1 million grant to relocate another 2,000 families in the state.

Mobility recruiters find low income families by trodding through fields, knocking on doors, walking streets and talking to church groups.

and expenses until the first pay check arrives.

The majority of the 279 families moved to Charlotte, High Point, Thomasville, Salisbury, Statesville or Martinsville, Va.

Lofaso said the persons who have gotten jobs through the program are now earning an average of $3,400 a year, compared to an average $1,200 before relocation.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. A relative is planning to sell some stock he owns. My husband wants to buy that stock. Must we buy through a broker? Or can we buy directly from the relative. How do we get our names changed on the shares if this is required? What price do we pay? Do we use the value of the stock quoted in the newspapers? What does "56 1/2" mean?

A. Please, one or two questions at a time. Your first two seem to sum up your problem. You do not have to buy through a broker. You can deal directly with the seller (your relative). That is probably a motivating factor.

Here's what should be done. The seller endorses the stock certificate and has his signature "guaranteed" either by a brokerage firm or a commercial bank. Then, the certificate is sent to the transfer agent for the stock — with instructions to issue a new certificate in the new owner's name.

The transfer agent will inform the seller what relatively modest transfer taxes (if any) are due. After the seller pays those taxes (four cents a share, tops) a new certificate will be issued, registered in the name of the buyer.

In determining the price at which you will buy from your relative, you should use the newspaper quotation for the stock on the day on which your private transaction is made. That's the fair market price. By using it, you should fend off any problems that might arise with the Internal Revenue Service. Finally, "56 1/2" means that the market price of the stock is $56.50 a share.

Q. In reply to your readers who are unhappy when companies use the term "stock dividend" to describe a "stock split," you may be interested to know that the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the New York Stock Exchange and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants require that stock distributions of 20 to 25 per cent or more may not be referred to as "stock dividends" but must be labeled as "splits."

If this rule were followed by all companies, would it not clear up the confusion?

A. That would depend on how closely the rule is followed. A company might officially label distribution of its stock as a split. Then, in all its announcements, it might bury that word in the fine print and use the term stock dividend all over the place.

I doubt that we will ever clear up all the confusion about stock splits and stock dividends. Anyway, as far as the stockholders are concerned, stock splits and stock dividends have the same results.

Q. I notice that newspaper quotations on most mutual funds show the "asked" price higher than the "bid" price. But, on some funds, the bid and the asked prices are exactly the same. Are those the "no-load funds?"

A. Of course. The bid price is the amount you would receive if you redeem (cash in) fund shares. Except for a few funds which charge a small redemption fee, the bid price is also the asset value per share.

The asked price is the asset value per share, plus commission charge. The no-load funds sell their shares without any commission. So, the bid and the asked prices are the same.

(Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Equipment Is Purchased by Buhl Council

BUHL — Buhl city councilmen Tuesday evening authorized the purchase of a new Case tractor loader and backhoe from the Williams Tractor Co., Twin Falls, for $18,669 less trade-in of $4,269.

The city paid $4,500 on the new equipment with the balance of $9,900 to be financed on a three-year lease option agreement with the Idaho First National Bank at five per cent simple interest.

The council accepted the Buhl Hardware bid for paint for the city of Buhl. The bid was for $225 and included 40 gallons of rubberized pool paint in marine blue, 10 gallons of yellow traffic paint and five gallons of red industrial enamel.

Other bids were submitted by Fuller Farm and Home Supply for $311.45 and from Bestway Building Center for $363.40.

The Public Housing Authority Board composed of Mrs. De Lawrence Gline, chairman, Warren Saunders, Kenneth Beecher and Mrs. Ralph Lamb, was officially sworn in with Mike Felton, local attorney, conducting the ceremony. Purpose of the board is to lay the groundwork for securing a low cost housing program in Buhl for senior citizens.

Primo Gabardi was hired as a fulltime employee for the local fire department retroactive to April 1 at a salary of $290 per month. D. Barzee and Emile Haumont met with the council to discuss the requirements in the city trailer ordinance.

The council outlined new hours for the city clerk's office to be conducted on a six months' trial basis. The city clerk's office in the city hall will now be closed all day Saturday instead of being open until noon. However, Bernard Starr, city clerk, Mrs. Iva Shaver, secretary, and Mrs. Vera Day, treasurer, will alternate and be available on a stand-by basis for emergency calls.

New weekday hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Barker, to install front glass windows and other repairs to the building at 902 Main Street for $3,700; Darrell Surber, to add a new bedroom, and repairs to residence for $1,000, and Norris Westby, to reroof and remodel residence for $1,000.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, APRIL 8—Born today, you are highly sensitive to outward surroundings and are likely to do your best work when you feel in harmony with persons and things about you. On the other hand, you are not a prima donna by nature; you do not demand that all be as you would like it before you will even try to do your best. Trying comes naturally to you, and failure, far from disheartening you, only makes you more determined to try again. Remember, however, that there is a point beyond which trying is useless; learn to recognize this point and to change course when it appears.

Somewhat prone to demanding perfection both of yourself and of others, you would not be a very easy person to work for. On the other hand, those who do work with or under you recognize that you make the same demands upon yourself that you do upon them, and this, if nothing else, can work to drive them to that very perfection which you ask. The same is true in other aspects of your life. In friendship, for example, you demand loyalty; and because you also give it, you are very likely to get what you demand.

You have almost unlimited energy and if you learn to use it in the right way, it can serve to place you at the top of your profession in very short order, indeed. Remember, however, that "almost unlimited" does not mean "boundless"; you, like anyone else, must have the rest you require, or you will do yourself more of a disservice than service.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, April 9
ARIES (March 22-April 20)—The Aries in business for himself gains much today, both materially and in self-respect. Take the family into your confidence.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—This is an excellent day for business activities, especially at a distance. Don't undertake more than you can manage, however.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Opportunity should knock more than once at Gemini's door today. Be prepared to take advantage of the best offer.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Bright prospects for your personal affairs, especially if you combine business with socializing. A timely party?

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—One of your key days this month. You should be able to settle important personal and financial matters to everyone's satisfaction.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Take on nothing that will not yield worthwhile results today. You have neither the time nor the talent to waste.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—An excellent day for your major interests. Best, however, to leave minor matters alone as they may only confuse important issues.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Use this day to partake in social gatherings that can be to your advantage professionally if you make the right impression.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Social affairs may tempt you to let business wither on the vine today. Avoid giving in to the temptation, however.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Even if you work only part time today, you should be able to accomplish much in the way of achieving a long-held ambition.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Professional promotions may be on the minds of those higher up. This is a Saturday for making a good impression.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21)—Take time out from business affairs to engage in sports and social activities, if only as a bystander. A good day for the Pisces who doffs worry.

SATURDAY, APRIL 9—Born today, you have been gifted with any number of definite talents and abilities; what you make of them, however, is entirely up to you, for you are without doubt the master of your own fate. Nor would you have it any other way, for you are one who has no desire to be led into the various highways and byways of life by any other agent than yourself, your own desires, and the determination to fulfill those desires. You want neither favors nor direction; you want only to be left free to make your own decisions, reaping your own reward or failure.

You have a keen imagination

Nicklaus Shoots 68 to Take Three-Stroke Edge In Masters Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus, shaken by the death of four close friends in a plane crash, steeled himself for a four-under-par 68 lead in the first round of the Masters Golf Tournament. While his two chief rivals, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, skied over par each with double bogeys, the 210-pound strong boy from Columbus, Ohio, ripped out four Oddity of Year?

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — The golf season has barely opened, but City Councilman Charles Gregory doubts if it will produce a links oddity to top this one.

He and Paul Young were walking down the fairway of the sixth hole at Highland Hills Wednesday and were at least 275 yards from the tee when Gregory felt something brush his right side. Gregory stuck his hand in his trousers pocket and there was a strange golf ball.

It was the drive that Cary Gagan, Colorado State College player, had driven from the tee of the 533-yard hole. Bob Montgomery, college golf coach, was playing with Gagan.

Indians Send Holdout to Kansas City

CLEVELAND, (AP) — The Cleveland Indians announced Thursday they had traded holdout pitcher Ralph Terry and cash to the Kansas City Athletics for southpaw John O'Donoghue.

The A's announced at Bradenton, Fla., the cash in the deal was $25,000. The Athletics also announced Ed Lopat, executive vice president of the A's, would start negotiating Thursday night with Terry, who had not yet signed a Cleveland contract.

Terry, the last holdout in major league baseball, had an 11-6 record with the Indians last year, his first season with the Tribe after five years with the New York Yankees.

O'Donoghue, 26, won nine games and lost 18 with the Athletics in 1965. He had a 3.94 earned run average.

Terry, a 30-year-old right-hander, had refused to sign a 1966 contract with the Indians because of a salary dispute. He wanted $38,000 while Indians President Gabe Paul offered $31,000.

The $7,000 difference represented the amount of cut in salary Terry took when he joined the Indians.

Dietzel Says He Had Three Offers

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Paul Dietzel said he considered three other coaching offers this spring before deciding to leave Army to become head football coach and athletic director at the University of South Carolina.

Dietzel, given a 10-year contract Wednesday at a reported $25,000 to $35,000 a year, succeeded Marvin Bass, who resigned to become head coach and general manager of the new Montreal team in the Continental League.

Dietzel did not reveal the other offers.

The Cadets were 21-18-1 in four years under Dietzel, with a win and a tie in four games with archival Navy.

Bengals' Power Beats Boise 9-1

BOISE (AP) — A pair of three-run homers and another solo blast carried Idaho State to a 9-1 victory over Boise College Thursday.

Jim Walker gave the Bengals a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning when his four-bagger brought in three runs.

Idaho State rallied for four more runs in the fifth inning, including another three-run circuit smash by Kendall Kinghorn.

Steve Kuharski's solo blast in the seventh was the third Bengal homer.

ISU Wins

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Idaho State University won 10 events and easily defeated University of California at Santa Barbara, 86-58, in a dual track meet Thursday.

Roger Maxfield won two events for Idaho's Bengals and set a UCSB field record in the 2-mile with a 9:04.8. He won the mile in 4:14.9.

Sharing the place with him, six shots off the pace, were dandy Doug Sanders, winner of the last two tournaments; former British Open champion Tony Lama, and more than half a dozen others.

Nicklaus had a three-stroke lead over a trio of top veterans 30 years old and over, and a veteran amateur, all tied at 71. They were Bill Casper, 35, the slimmed-down putting wizard from Peacock Gap, Calif.; Don January, 36, of Dallas, Tex.; burly Mike Souchak, 38, former football player from Duke University, and Charley Coy, 42, a two-time National Amateur Champion from Oklahoma City, Okla.

"No one else in the field of 103 managed to crack the tenacious 36-36-72 par of the 6,980-yard Augusta National course. Play started under overcast skies and finished in bright sunshine, but the wind shipped up gusts of 35 miles an hour.

"The wind would change before you could get a club out of your bag," said Player.

The 68th round was an amazing one under the conditions for Nicklaus, the 26-year-old heavy-weight who tore this famed lay-out to ribbons with a record 271 in winning his second Masters last year.

Big Jack was awakened in the middle of the night with the news that four friends from Columbus, Ohio, with whom he golfed, fished and socialized had died in the blazing wreckage of a rented private plane near Johnson City, Tenn.

They were Robert Barton and James Long, two young Columbus attorneys, and their wives, who were rushing to Augusta to watch Jack tee off.

"It was a shock — a terrible shock," Nicklaus said. "They were wonderful people and fine friends."

Nicklaus played like a machine, putting for eagles on three of the par 5 holes.

He played with Coe, who gave a remarkable demonstration of chipping and putting. The Oklahoma said, "I made a couple of loose drives and bad approaches, but my short game saved me."

January, who hasn't won a tour tournament since 1963, was one of the early starters and canned two birds at the sixth and seventh to turn in 34 before the wind got gusty.

The husky Souchak, a sensation of the pros 10 years ago, might have challenged Nicklaus for the lead except for a balky putter. He three-putted the fourth hole and missed four putts of between three and eight feet.

Putting was the key to Casper's round. He rang in a putt of 60 feet at the sixth hole, a 12-footer at the seventh and 30-footer at the ninth.

Palmer birdied the second hole and was moving along comfortably until he came to the 12th, the 155-yard monster with water in front of the green and a steep climb in back.

Arnie buried the ball in a rear bunker and left the ball there on his explosion attempt. Finally, he came out to within eight feet and missed the putt for a double bogey 5.

"I just didn't play well," Palmer said. "The wind was awfully distracting and tricky."

Player reeled off 10 straight pars until he came to the 11th, which has a small pond to the left and which puts a premium on the second shot.

The South African said he thought the pond was a lateral hazard, which would permit a drop with a penalty on the green but found it had been made into a water hazard since last year.

He took a chance, hit into the water and then had to hit his third from about 90 feet. He double bogeyed.

On the next hole, the 11th, he buried his tee shot into some muck back of the green.

"I could barely see the ball," Player said. "I only wanted to try to hit into the trap in front of me, knowing I had no chance to get on the green. I lashed it into it and the ball went into the hole for a birdie deuce."

"You could take a million shots and never get on the green from where my ball lay. It was the greatest and luckiest shot I ever saw."

Clay Pays Alimony, Avoids Jail

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay escaped a 30-day jail sentence by a couple of hours Thursday when his friends raised $26,250 in cash to pay alimony and lawyers' fees for his pretty ex-wife, Sonji.

A cashier's check was handed to Sonji's lawyers, and she signed a joint income tax return that Clay's lawyers had made up.

That was part of the agreement worked out Tuesday afternoon when two deputy sheriffs were looking for Clay with an arrest warrant for contempt of court.

If Clay had not paid up, Sonji was not going to sign the form, thus raising his taxes for last year.

Milton E. Grusmark, lawyer for Clay, said the money had been sent to a Miami bank from Chicago and New York. He said he didn't know who furnished it.

"And I don't want to know," he said. "It's been a hectic day."

Clay had until 5:30 p.m. to come up with the money under the Tuesday agreement. The money was transferred about 3:30 p.m.

Apparently Clay didn't have the money because his share of the last two title fights is tied up in litigation. He boasted recently that he made enough money to buy six jet planes. Although that may be a bit high, the record at his divorce trial showed he made $450,000 in 1965.

Trojans Post First Win in Track History

BURLEY — Raft River High School of Malia, taking second place in the final event, won its first track and field meet in history Thursday afternoon.

The Trojans, who bowed into track competition only 15 years ago, went into the mile relay knowing a second would wrap up the victory. It used big Dana Tracy, its ace, to run the anchor and that was enough.

Raft River piled up 58 1-6 points to edge Kimberly, which was second at 56 2-3. Other points went to Castleford at 43 5-6, Declo 42, Murtaugh 33, Oakley 27 1-3 and Hansen 12.

A minor injury put Raft River in a clinching spot. Tracy was scheduled to run in the 400-yard dash but sustained a hip bruise while high jumping just prior to the race. It forced him to cancel out, costing the Trojans a sure five points. Later when the importance of the mile relay came up, Tracy had recuperated to a degree that allowed him to run.

In perhaps the only surprise of the day, two men crossed the finish line ahead of Castleford's Nolan Carter in the low hurdles. Kimberly's Jim Denton won the event in 22.1 while John Goodman, Declo, was second.

A little wind and a soft track kept the times down during the day.

Team scoring — Raft River 58 1-6, Kimberly 56 2-3, Castleford 43 5-6, Declo 42, Murtaugh 33, Oakley 27 1-3 and Hansen 12.

Land leveling and making of ditches has been finished at the Lyons Woody ranch near Tuttle.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Udy have moved from their ranch at Tuttle which they have sold to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stockton, formerly of Oakland, Calif. The Udy's Hereford cattle were trucked to the Udy ranch at Leadore by Cady Auto Co., Hagerman, and William Jenkins, Gooding, assisted in moving the household goods and other articles. Mr. and Mrs. Stockton have moved into the ranch.

The spring wheat at Tuttle is coming up and the winter wheat and barley is looking good, but farmers in the area agree rain is needed for all crops of grain.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Simon and family have moved from their farm home south of Fairfield to their newly constructed ranch-type home on the baseline road northeast of Fairfield.

E. F. Wilson and son, James, and his hired help are working at his farm at Orchard before starting work at his Fairfield farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gormley have moved into a farm house on the Marvin France place, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edholm. Gormley is employed at the Wendell Mill at Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corbali and family have moved to Brunau where he will be engaged in the cattle business with his father. They have leased their farm on Soldier Creek, north of Fairfield, to George Petrie and Elmer Johnson.

Robert Haslam of the R. H. Registered Quarter Horse Ranch, north of Jerome, has sold a registered yearling filly, Petite Michelle, to Dorothy Michelle McLean, Sugar Loaf, for her 4-H project for this year. The filly will be exhibited at the Jerome County Fair in August. Since Haslam annually presents the trophy for the top 4-H quarter horse, he may be in for a small battle against a quite natural prejudice!

A. L. Carrier and son, Hansen, recently sold an Aberdeen-Angus bull to Clifford Skinner, Dingle, and one registered Angus cow to James and Wesley Brooks and son, Hazelton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson branded their herd of cattle on Wednesday at their ranch south of King Hill. Mrs. Thompson's brother, Leo Hobday, Bliss, assisted with the branding. Mr. and Mrs. Hobday were dinner guests.

Twenty head of cattle were branded and dehorned at June Farnworth's ranch, Carey. He was assisted by his brother, DeWayne Farnworth.

Over 100 head of young cattle were branded and dehorned at Milford Spark's ranch, Carey, during the past week. His Hereford cows have begun calving.

Karl Richards, Oram, Utah, has been visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richards, and family and helping with the spring farm work, at his ranch east of King Hill. Richards and family expect to spend considerable time at the ranch this summer.

Maylon Whiting, Malta, drove his range herd from the Jay Harper ranch south of Malta, where the cattle have been wintered, to his ranch in Elba this week. The cattle were driven as far as Connor the first day. The drive was finished the following day. Helping Whiting with the drive were his daughter, Marsha, and Leo Beyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chandler, Elba, took a truckload of their cattle to the Valley Livestock Commission Co., in Rupert this week.

Mon Repos Dairy, Inc., Twin Falls, recently purchased 24 registered Angus cows from Percy G. Powers, Perryton, Tex.

Marly Thomason, Sandpoint, sold eight registered horned Hereford bulls to Hill City Bliss Farms, Bliss.

Larry Peterson began spring plowing March 29 at his ranch, four miles north of Carey. Mrs. Peterson thinks her husband is the first one in the Carey Valley to begin spring plowing.

The Rupert Golcocheas Richfield, helped move the John Urrutia family to their new home at the former Shook store and station north of Shoshone.

U.S. Agriculture Holds Key to World Poverty

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "A farm prices, farm exports for strong and prosperous U. S. agriculture, vital to this nation in peace and indispensable in war, holds the key to unlock the chains of hunger, poverty and misery for many in the world," Sen. Len Jordan said in urging restoration of agricultural research funds and the creation of a U. S. World Food Study Commission.

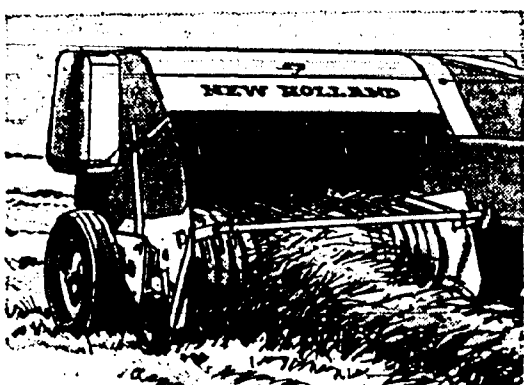

"The American farmer has become a tremendously important factor in meeting the growing world food problem," said Sen. Jordan.

"Because so much depends on him—the security of our country and perhaps peace as well—there is an urgent need for the immediate establishment of a U. S. World Food Study and Coordinating Commission, a commission which would make the farmer a full partner in planning a world food program."

"There are so many questions which must be answered concerning U. S. involvement in the world food crisis," Jordan noted.

"Questions such as effects on world prices and markets, U. S.

Report Shows Idaho Has Done Well in Wool Contest

BOISE — In 19 years of the mis, Donnelly, junior division, make-it-yourself-with-wool contest, Idaho has had eight national winners and two runners-up, a report showed this week as the annual competition began to take shape for another season.

The report by the auxiliary of the National Wool Growers' Association was received by M. C. Claar, secretary of the Idaho Wool Growers' Association, and Esther Nystrom, clothing specialist of the University of Idaho extension service.

Idaho won its first championship in 1949, the second year of the event. Elizabeth Glen Schubert, Gooding, was best that year in the senior division. Joan Hopper, Caldwell, was junior champion in 1951. Diane Hampton, Preston, was junior winner in 1952.

Other national champions from Idaho have been Edna Payne, Caldwell, junior division, 1954; Patricia M. Jeppson, Preston, senior division, 1955; Sharon Schelline, Donnelly, junior division, 1957; Amelia Beth Lee, County, district and state winners for 1966 in senior and junior divisions will be determined during the summer and fall of this year. The national champions selected from state winners in this contest; however, will not be named until the national convention early next year, resulting in the fact that young women who receive top prizes for sewing done in 1966 are national champions for 1967.

would explore." Jordan pointed out that a primary responsibility of the commission would be that of determining just how American agriculture could serve as a contributor to the solution of the world food problem, and at the same time be assured of adequate compensation.

"It is possible," he said, "that under the administration's highly restrictive and complex farm programs and policies—which include CCC dumping to hold down farm prices—the farmer could be further hurt rather than be helped by increasing his production to feed the hungry world. We could have a situation where everyone but the U. S. farmer benefits."

"Such a turn of events would be disastrous," said Jordan, "both for American security and for world peace. The establishment of a U. S. World Food Study and Coordinating Commission will be a major step toward preventing such an eventuality."

Canal Firm Official Says Water Outlook Is Good

There will be enough water to irrigate the farm land for the 1955 season, according to Alfred Peters, manager of the Twin Falls Canal Co.

The canal company has been doing repair work on the laterals and canals all winter and they are ready to go for the coming season. Over 25,000 man hours have been put into the work of getting these laterals and canals ready to go and close to $40,000 in repairs has been made.

Peters said there are no major projects planned for this summer, since most of the repair work is done in the Spring and Fall.

Peters remarked that the company buys most of its equipment and materials the early part of the year after there has been repair work done on canals. There is always something to repair throughout the year.

son will be a major step toward preventing such an eventuality."

Index Prices of Feed Unchanged From Last Month

BOISE — The index of prices paid by farmers for feed remained unchanged from a month earlier reports the USDA crop reporting service for Idaho.

The index at 91 per cent of the 1947-49 average was up five points from mid-March, 1956. Feed items showing an increase from a month earlier were cottonseed meal (41 per cent protein), soybean meal (44 per cent protein), corn meal, all dairy feed items and alfalfa hay. Other items were unchanged or lower in price.

will do other work on the canals. This year they will be tilling some of the laterals and ditches to keep out frost during the fall and winter.

Peters reports there will be the same amount of land under irrigation this year as last year, about 202,700 acres. There are 100 miles of main canals that will be in operation and 1,000 miles of laterals.

Peters gave the water outlook as being good this season. There is a big carryover and lots of snow in the mountains. There is, at present, a storage of 1,260,000 acre-feet, which is about average for any year.

Bulletin Is Offered to Farmers

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow — Did you know that the biggest western white pine in the nation grows in Idaho. It does. The tree is near Elk River in Clearwater County.

It is 219 feet tall and nearly seven feet in diameter. A sub-alpine fir 146 feet tall, growing near Sandpoint in Bonner County, also is a national champion. These facts, and many others are given in "Native Trees of Idaho" — a new publication of the University of Idaho extension service. The 36-page bulletin with numerous illustrations is for sale.

Orders will be filled by mailing rooms of the college of agriculture at Moscow and Boise. County agents have order blanks that list special rates for large numbers.

County offices, however, do not have the bulletin for sale. The extension service emphasized that sales will be made only at the two mailing rooms. Idaho buyers will include the state sales tax.

"Native Trees of Idaho" was written by Frederick D. Johnson of the University of Idaho college of forestry. He was assisted by Vernon Burlison, extension forester, and Roger Guernsey, state forester. It describes and provides identification keys for 19 native conifers and 31 native broadleaf trees.

The information about Idaho's national champion white pine is given in a special list of Idaho's biggest trees. It tells, for example, that in contrast with the giant pine, Idaho's biggest Pacific yew — growing near Lowell, also in Clearwater County — is 25 feet tall.

Loan Firm Gives Report For 1965

SPOKANE — Total new farm loan approvals by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S. during 1965 exceeded $145 million according to regional manager M. W. Campton, Spokane.

This is a 21.6 per cent increase over the previous year. New farm loan approvals for the state of Idaho during 1965 totaled $2,252,368.

Campton stated that the total amount of farm mortgages recorded by all lenders in 48 states will be about 11 per cent higher in 1965 than the previous year. The number of mortgages remained relatively stable while the average size increased 10 per cent. The average value of farm real estate in 48 states advanced 45 per cent in the eight-year period 1958-1965.

Equitable's nationwide farm loan investments outstanding at the end of 1965 amounted to more than $653 million.

In the five-state Spokane region, general farms account for the largest number of outstanding loans with wheat, cash grain in second place and tree farms third. Total outstanding loans for the Spokane region amounted to over $68 million at the end of 1965, of this amount $17,004,608 was in the state of Idaho.

Mill Opens

FAIRFIELD — The Wendell Mill and Lumber Co. sawmill started the season's operation this week. Employees are sawing logs that had been stockpiled during the winter. The mill usually runs about nine months out of the year.

Federation Urges Market Hearings

WASHINGTON — Early hearings to consider July 1 increases in class I prices under all federal milk marketing orders were urged April 1 by the National Milk Producers Federation.

"The shortening of supplies, and the increasing demands for fluid milk are heading toward a collision course," stated E. M. Norton, federation secretary. "This shortage can only be alleviated by adequate class I prices, known to producers sufficiently far in advance so that they can be encouraged to produce their efforts to fill the gap."

"All federal milk marketing orders are affected. Individual hearings to review conditions in 74 markets are impractical in view of urgent need for higher prices, the time required to hold such hearings and process the dockets, and because such hearing records would merely serve to duplicate testimony and evidence reflecting a general situation."

Milk Production Is Down From 1960-64 Average

BOISE — Total production of milk in Idaho was estimated at 106 million pounds during February, compared with 110 million pounds a year earlier and the 119 million pound 1960-64 average for the month.

Production declined three per cent this year from January to February — the same as the five-year average comparison for the same period. Swiss cheese was the only manufactured dairy product showing a gain from the same month a year ago.

Sharp decreases were noted for creamery butter and ice cream, while American cheese production was about five per cent below the February, 1965, output.

company's Heyburn mill, is directing operation of the Fairfield mill and Mrs. Rogers is bookkeeper.

Shipments of Lawn Seed Is Ordered by Alaska City

NOME, Alaska will be greener this year. A shipment of fancy lawn grass seed was ordered recently from Globe Seed and Feed Co., Twin Falls, J. A. Cederquist, manager of the company, said.

Cederquist said they received a letter from one of Nome's government departments saying that it had learned about Globe's fancy lawn seed and they thought would like to order some. Cederquist has sent the shipment via Seattle to the government firm.

Globe's seeds are known almost the world over. Cederquist said that they have presently been sending some of their private brands, such as 440 alfalfa, to Texas, Colorado and Utah.

"Globe's gold tag grain mixture consisting of oats and barley, known as two-way and oats, wheat and barley, known as three-way grain, are grains that mature evenly and 150 bushel to the acre crops are not uncommon in the Magic Valley area. It gives the feeders a mixture of grains as they want it." Cederquist added, "I thought that an order of lawn seed from Alaska was rather unusual since it is quite a ways to ship it."

Commission Sets Hearing Dates for Regulations

BOISE — The Idaho Potato and Onion Commission has set April 18 as the date for a hearing on a regulation citing how to properly use the new trademark "Idaho."

At the same time the commission will also hear testimony concerning the new container manufacturer agreements. Both items were passed by the commission at the regular March meeting and now only await the results of the hearing to become effective.

The hearings will be held as a part of the regular April meeting of the commission, with that body acting as the hearing officer. This new procedure was enacted into law by the last session of the state legislature.

In other business the commission decided to give a boost to the late sales of potatoes by authorizing some new advertising in trade papers, also a newspaper campaign to introduce the trademark "Idaho" to the trade was authorized.

It was also reported that there have been several spot crack-downs on grocery stores within the state who are selling under-grade potatoes.

The commission learned that

Charles McDaniel, one of the marketing specialists, will be on sick leave for about two months due to impending surgery.

Visitors to the commission were Vernon James, president of the National Potato Council and Doyle Burns, executive secretary for the council.

Speaks on Sales Tax

WENDELL — Vernon Ravenscroft, Gooding County state representative, was guest speaker for Wendell Grange No. 82 Tuesday evening.

Henry Schmidt, chairman of the agricultural committee, reported that with fewer cows and less milk, the situation of the dairy farmers looks brighter.

Mrs. Arthur Byce read a letter from the American Cancer Society, and members voted a donation for the campaign.

A communication was read from Mrs. Nellie Hamilton, a Wendell Grange member, now living in Salem, Ore., telling of her residence in the Methodist retirement apartments.

Mrs. Ben Gulliford reported for the home economics chairman, Mrs. Raymond Ruby, that entries are wanted in the Grange sewing contest. All Grange members are eligible to enter and others may do so by contacting a Grange member and be sponsored by them.

Feeding World Will Be Number One Challenge

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Feeding the growing populations of the world will be man's number one challenge over the remaining three decades of this century, says Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Two factors are responsible for the change in magnitude of the food problem.

He said, "First, the number of people in the world is increasing so rapidly that it now seems quite likely that the increase in the world population between now and the end of this century, only 34 years hence, will equal or exceed the current population.

"Secondly, this is occurring at a time when the amount of new land suitable for cultivation is rapidly diminishing. Lacking new land to bring under cultivation, we must look to greater output per acre."

The dialogue about world food need — and America's possible role in helping to meet those needs — thus continues. It's another indication of growing pressures on land resources and the possible conservation hazards that may result.

Grower-Members Are Appointed By Commission

BOISE — Appointment of three new grower-members of the Idaho Potato and Onion Commission was announced recently.

Chosen by Gov. Robert E. Smylie from nominations submitted to him were Joseph Taylor, Paul, and Jack W. Allred, Murtaugh, for district 2, and Luther Roberts, Weiser, for district 3.

All three appointments are for terms running until July 1, 1969.

The three appointees replace three members, each of whom has served two consecutive terms. They are W. B. Whiteley, Oakley; E. J. Morgan, Murtaugh, and Phillip Batt, Wilder.

TWO AREA YOUTHS, Kenneth Warr, Murtaugh, center, and Robin Wells, Twin Falls, both winners of Union Pacific Railroad scholarships, get their awards from Boyd Baxter, agricultural agent for the railroad. The two boys are among 22 in the state receiving the scholarships. They are members of the Future Farmers of America. Baxter said the railroad awards two of the $200 scholarships each year in each of the 188 counties it serves. Since the railroad started the program in 1922, almost 10,000 scholarships have been awarded, with 1,500 of them granted in Idaho.

Sale of Wool And Rams Is Approved

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow — Recommendations on the sale of wool and rams by the University of Idaho were approved by the board of regents meeting in Lewiston, said President Ernest W. Hartung.

Wool from about 5,500 head of sheep will be shown at Dubois in mid-May, resulting in approximately 70,000 pounds of wool. In previous years the wool has been sold by bids through the Pacific Wool Growers of Portland, which now has a smaller pool than before.

The pool from the 1966 Dubois station flock will be sold, as approved by the board, FOB station on a bid basis after the showing at Dubois.

The board also authorized sale of yearling rams bred at Dubois to experiment stations, USDA researchers and private breeders interested in obtaining them for research studies for $50 per head FOB Dubois.

It was also recommended and approved that the existing policy concerning the sale of select breeding rams to experiment stations at a cost of $100 per head as approved by the regents in 1954, be maintained. These herd rams are for station flocks and are in a different class than the genetically stabilized rams.

Union Pacific Reports Winners Of Scholarships

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow — Winners of Union Pacific Railroad scholarships awarded annually to Idaho 4-H Club members were announced by the University of Idaho extension service and the railroad.

There is one scholarship each for 39 counties. The awards of $200 each will be used in attending college.

The 1966 winners from this area are Roger Wurst, Blaine; Karen Anderson, Elmore; Sandra Rathke, Gooding; Ada Watson, Jerome; Cheryl Towne, Lincoln; Linda Butler, Minidoka, and Roxie Nowlin, Shoshone.

Electric Project Could Win Trip to Chicago

The 4-H electric awards program now in its 31st year is for boys and girls interested in learning more about electrical energy, electronics and the repair and maintenance of electrical equipment, according to Twin Falls county agent Olan Genn.

Projects have changed to keep pace with technological advance, automation, wider use of electrical power controls, appliances and lighting in the home and on the farm.

This program supervised by the state and county 4-H staff, is offered to 4-H'ers between nine and 19 years of age. Projects are carried out under the guidance of volunteer adult and junior 4-H leaders. Electric power suppliers also give a big assist to the program.

Next fall the 4-H'ers having the most outstanding electric project in the state will be named a delegate to the national 4-H Club congress in Chicago as a guest of Westinghouse Electric Corporation, sponsor of the program.

Conservation District Vote Is Scheduled

A referendum, called by the Idaho Soil Conservation Commission will be held on April 19, which concerns the formation of a new soil conservation district, and the extension of the boundaries of the Balanced Rock Soil Conservation District.

All qualified electors who own land or reside within the proposed district shall be eligible to vote in the referendum. Polls will be open from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The VFW Hall in Buhl will be the polling place where electors will vote on the annexation to the Balanced Rock Soil Conservation District.

The proposed area for annexation is located west of a north-south line on the west edge of Filer to the boundary of the Balanced Rock Soil Conservation District near Buhl. This area is bordered by the Snake River on the north and the High Line Canal on the south.

Polling places for consideration of the new district will be in the high school vocational agriculture building in Kimberly and the county agent's office in the old Hospital Building in Twin Falls.

The new area to be voted upon is bordered on the north by the Snake River and on the south by the High Line Canal, which is the north boundary of the Twin Falls Soil Conservation District. The western boundary is a north-south line at the west edge of Filer and the eastern boundary is a north-south line two miles west of Murtaugh.

Control Resistant Wireworms in potatoes... Use Niran® 10-G ...and be sure!

Powerful Niran 10-G controls all wireworms in potatoes ... even those which have developed resistance to many conventional insecticides.

Play it safe. Wireworms damage both potato seed pieces and infest growing tubers. Crop damage in infested soils can result in heavy culls. Wireworms can cause substantial losses of marketable production.

The most effective way to use Niran 10-G is to broadcast from 20 to 40 pounds of granules per acre before planting. Immediately work Niran 10-G into the upper 4 to 6 inches of soil. Wireworms move about in the soil. That's why broadcast application is most effective.

Be sure the soil temperature is warm enough before applying Niran 10-G. Wireworms do not move near the surface of the soil until the temperature is warm enough. Soil temperatures are generally too cool prior to April 1. Follow directions carefully for most effective use.

Niran 10-G is a powerful chemical. Treat it with respect. Read and follow directions on the label carefully.

Contracts Offered By Campbell Soup For 1966 Are Rejected By Growers

CHICAGO — Growers of tomatoes for processing in Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, acting through their state Farm Bureau marketing associations, have rejected 1966 contracts offered by the Campbell Soup Co., Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and its marketing affiliate, the American Agricultural Marketing Association, said. The state Farm Bureau marketing associations are members of the AAMA.

Practically all tomatoes purchased for processing into catsup, juice, paste and canned tomatoes, are grown under contracts between processors and growers. Such contracts are made before farmers plant tomatoes. Depending on weather conditions, tomato planting in the Midwest usually starts around May 1.

Shuman reported that officials of the Campbell Soup Co. have refused to meet with grower committees to discuss the 1966 contracts and the "multiplying problems in tomato production."

In an open letter to tomato growers who produce for the Campbell Soup Co. in the four states involved Shuman said, "Campbell growers who have sacrificed their 1966 tomato contracts have joined growers of past years who have risked a thing of value for a principle. "Farm Bureau will stand firmly beside you to assure that this is not just another soon-to-be-forgotten sacrifice by a few who have chosen to stand up for what they believe is right."

"Your efforts have contributed greatly toward the eventual success of farmers' determination to build their market power. Your decision to take the stand you have will not be a wasted effort."

The national farm leader said that Campbell's effort to sign up new growers will result in lower quality products and extra costs to consumers.

"Campbell Soup Co.," Shuman said, "is apparently turning to farmers who have no experience in tomato production. Many of these new growers are located many miles from customary producing areas. Campbell officials should be aware that the results must be added costs of raw products and lower quality tomatoes and tomato products."

The text of Shuman's open letter to Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey and Pennsylvania tomato growers who produce for Campbell Soup Co., is as follows:

"You are a small, illustrious group of farmers who have challenged the arbitrary decision of a large tomato processor who is apparently determined to beat down the efforts of farmers to increase their marketing strength through organization. "You are among those who have produced a high quality, dependable supply of raw product for this processor only experience the grating heel of discipline when you asked for the opportunity to discuss contract terms with the company through your marketing association."

"Campbell growers in Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have worked through their Farm Bureau marketing associations in an effort to meet in an organized manner with local Campbell plant officials to discuss the multiplying problems in tomato production. Campbell Soup Co. officials have gone to unbelievable and unexplainable means to thwart these efforts. "Campbell Soup loudly proclaims its interest in high quality products and at the same time is apparently abandoning dependable growers who know how to raise quality tomatoes and turning to farmers who have no experience in tomato production."

"Many of these new growers are located many miles from customary producing areas. Campbell officials, should be aware that the result must be added costs of raw product and lower quality tomatoes and tomato products. "The consumer will pay the extra cost and will receive lower quality products. Obviously, the objective of the company is to show growers who is boss and to destroy the farmers marketing organization. "Farm Bureau has attempted to convince those processors who maintain such a dogmatic policy toward farmer associations that the alternatives are worse. Even now, we see energetic efforts by the federal government to 'get in the act.' Leaks from the National Commission on Food Marketing indicate the commission is seriously considering recommendations for placing agricultural 'bargaining' under government direction and control. "Campbell growers who have sacrificed their 1966 tomato contracts have joined growers of past years who have risked a thing of value for a principle."

Idahoan Gets High Post in ASC Program

BOISE — Leo E. Choate, who maintains a farm in his home county of Clearwater, has been named assistant national employee development and training officer by Horace D. Godfrey, Administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Washington, D.C.

Choate moves to his new position from that of staff assistant for the Northwest Area Director of ASCS in Washington, which he has held since August, 1963.

The employee development and training operation was recently established by Godfrey to have primary responsibility in the fields of providing training programs for the nationwide organization and of developing methods to spot and train capable replacements for key personnel as they retire.

Choate will be involved in the organization and direction of the new group.

Prior to his appointment in 1963 in the Northwest Area office, Choate was Idaho ASCS state executive director, headquartered in Boise. He had been office manager for the Clearwater County ASC Committee in Orofino for six years.

Active in community affairs, Choate held local, county and state offices during 26 years as a member of Evergreen Grange. He was supervisor of the Clearwater Soil Conservation District for 12 years, and

Technique for Man-Made Tornadoes Is Demonstrated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of a laboratory technique for generating man-made tornadoes was reported and demonstrated Wednesday.

A Catholic University of America scientist who brews the laboratory-twisters said the method offers a possible first step toward developing means to cut sharply the toll in lives and property damage from natural tornadoes.

Dr. Chieh-chien Chang, head of the university's space-sciences department, generates the tornadoes in a "cage" 6 feet in diameter and 9 feet high. He said they simulate some of the tornado elements responsible for such near-the-ground destruction as seen in the Florida twisters that killed 10 persons and injured 300 last Monday.

Potato Industry Planning for 1967 Conference

POCATELLO — The first two annual conferences of the Idaho potato industry have been so successful a third already has been scheduled for 1967, Dalyle Espin, Blackfoot, general chairman, announces.

The dates will be Feb. 9 and 10 and the place again will be Pocatello. Alvin Myroie, Bannock County agricultural agent of the University of Idaho extension service, has been appointed program chairman.

Marketing will be the main topic, Espin said. That is a phase of the business, he said, in which all elements of the industry are concerned. About 250 people attended the 1966 conference. Registration nearly doubled compared with that in 1965 when the all-industry discussions began.

Chang said 150 tornadoes occur yearly in the United States east of the Rockies—the world's worst area for such storms—and he noted that on Palm Sunday a year ago, one of the worst tornado disasters in American history occurred.

On that one day, 37 Midwest twisters killed 271, injured 5,000 and caused more than $200 million in property damage in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

Chang's tornado-brewer is a transparent, rotating screen shaped like a hatbox. A core of air is made to spin at up to 55 miles an hour, creating a vortex—a whirling column with a hollow core. This is much like the vortex of an actual tornado, although a real twister whirls at velocities up to 400 miles an hour.

Smoke, generated beneath the cage and fed up into the whirling-dervish column, makes the column visible for study.

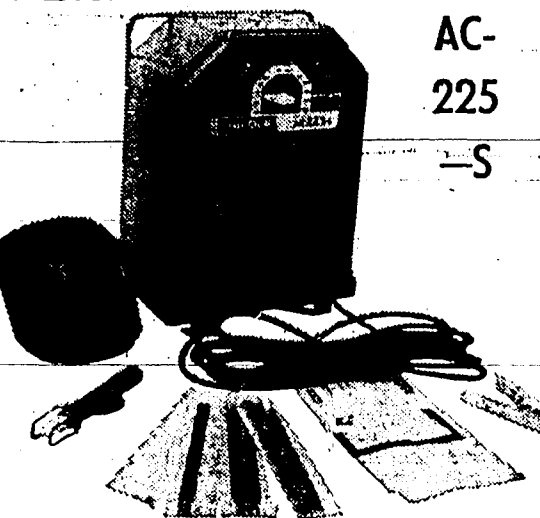

The scientist said that in addition to simulating the vortex—the rotating action that destroys many houses on the ground—the model also resembles an actual tornado in two other elements:

—It has a strong suction action at the core—the force that literally bursts buildings apart. —And it has a boundary layer producing heavy pressures at ground level.

The pioneering, stationary version, Chang said, still lacks certain elements of a natural twister—such as forward movement at speeds up to 50 miles an hour.

But he said it "represents the first significant progress in generating laboratory tornadoes for study under controlled conditions" and opens the way to sophisticated methods for trying to tap the mystery of what makes a natural twister tick.

Uranium Producers Propose Program on Policy to AEC

WASHINGTON (AP) — A uranium producers' association has proposed a five-point program to the Atomic Energy Commission for liberalizing government policies on uranium operations, it was disclosed today.

The proposals were made by the Atomic Industrial Forum's committee on mining and milling at a private luncheon March 18 given for the commissioners and top AEC officials.

An AEC spokesman said, "the committee presented ideas. There was no commitment of any kind made." He said the AEC is studying the proposals.

The committee proposals centered generally around the 1970 period when the government's present uranium-buying program ends. The program originally was supposed to end this year, but was extended several years ago to 1970. Current buying is on a reduced scale.

The uranium industry wants the government to keep purchasing uranium until prospects brighten for private purchases, mainly by atomic power plants. The current program — stretching from 1966-70 — was conceived to carry the uranium mining and milling industry until the nuclear power market grows sufficiently to enable the industry to continue on its own.

The five main points suggested by the committee:

- 1 — A need for the AEC to make public as soon as possible the U. S. leasing policies applicable when toll enrichment begins. Toll enrichment means paying for enrichment of uranium so it can be used for nuclear power. The committee, the proposal said, "recognizes that the U-308 price to be used in establishing AEC lease charges for enriched uranium in 1969-70 will be the terms under which leased stocks are converted to private ownership by 1973."
- 2 — Concern for the AEC's

Price Index For March Said Down

BOISE — The March 15 index of prices received by Idaho farmers showed a decrease of three points from the month before to 275 per cent of its 1910-14 average, according to the USDA crop reporting service for Idaho.

The all commodities index is 12 points above the March 15, 1965, index and is the highest March index since 1952.

The all crops index remained unchanged from last month at 207 per cent of its 1910-14 average but is still 33 points below the March 15, 1965, index.

In comparison with last month, higher average prices received for alfalfa hay, potatoes and dry beans were offset by lower prices received for wheat, barley and red clover seed. Average prices received for oats, apples and alfalfa seed remained unchanged from last month.

The livestock and livestock products index fell to 356 per cent of its 1910-14 average, which is still the highest March index since 1952. This is six points below the index of last month but is up sharply from the March 15, 1965, index of 290 per cent.

Lower average prices received for hogs and lambs caused the decline. Average prices received for beef cattle, chickens, milkfat and wool were up slightly while the average price of eggs remained unchanged.

Association's Secretary Says Meat Prices Have Not Sky-Rocketed

BOISE — Considerable publicity has been given to the cost of food items, especially meat, by individuals and the Department of Agriculture in recent publications.

Meat prices, at least to the grower or producer, certainly haven't shown the fantastic increases labor and manufacturing goods have received in the past 15 to 18 years, according to Robert Henderlinder, executive secretary of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association.

In 1948, a base year frequently used by economists for comparison purposes, U. S. prices were approximately $1.50 per bushel for corn, $2.35 for wheat, $26 per hundred weight for stock weight for live hogs.

In the 18 years following 1948, the basic interest rate on U. S. Government debentures has increased over 150 per cent and added another 50 per cent plus in fringe benefits. Industrial prices have increased 50 to more than 100 per cent, depending upon the particular item involved.

An automobile worker can now retire at 60 years of age and make a greater income from pensions and social security than the average farmer presently makes working seven days a week all year long and many times from before dawn until well after dark.

If agricultural prices had kept pace with the rest of the country, the average price for stock cattle today would be $65 per hundred weight. Hogs would be $50 per hundred weight (live), corn would be $3.75 per bushel and wheat $5.75.

Although we have experienced a slight up-turn in the livestock market during the last six or eight months it is a far cry from what it would be necessary to reach a parity with other segments of our economy.

Henderlinder stated that American families are spending only 18 1/2 per cent of their income today for food whereas in 1950 they were spending 25 per cent.

The rancher is receiving 15 per cent less for what he sells today than he was paid in 1950 and at the same time he has to pay 72 per cent more for medical care, 52 per cent more for professional service and 38 per cent more for transportation. The rancher pays a greater per cent of property tax than other individuals—livestock is the only agriculture commodity assessed for taxes.

The beef cattle industry has only recently shown price improvement after several years of depression and the profit balance is still very delicate. Many people have little or no idea of the cost of growing or raising a calf. Most urbanites believe the cows are turned out on the range, the calves are born and at some time they are gathered and sold and the rancher becomes wealthy. The University of Idaho has run studies on cattle ranches and the banking industry has accurate cost studies and depending upon the location of the ranch and grazing land-calf costs, that is the cost to raise one calf, average from $70 to $100.

The rancher has not received that much per animal because of imports which caused an over-supply until just the past few months. Meat is still the first to feel the blunt axe when the market declines and certainly is not the first to receive the increases that show at the retail level.

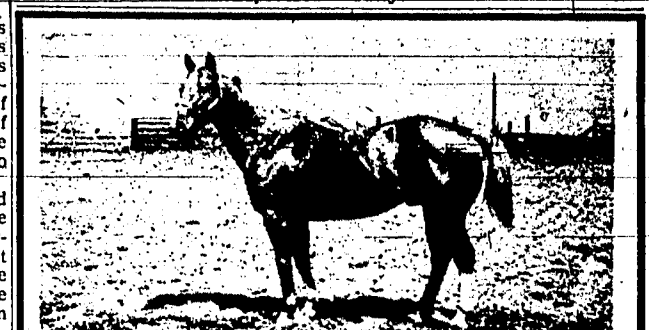

During the month of March, the shoe manufacturers pressured the U. S. Department of Commerce into placing an export quota on cattle hides and the immediate effect was a $3 to $5 price decline in the price received by the rancher for live cattle.

Passing the quota off as necessary to provide adequate leather supplies for American shoe manufacturers to prevent price increases has already proved disastrous for the cattle grower and the general public too since the shoe manufacturers have already announced up to eight per cent increases in shoe prices next fall.

Here again the cattle prices are laid to blame for an increase in cost of living when there is absolutely no bearing on any increases in raw material costs, such as hides. The law of supply and demand enters the picture in that if there are continual depressed prices of agricultural products, for any length of time, the grower will, because of financial responsibilities, be required to reduce or stop producing a commodity.

Control wireworms
In your potatoes with Diazinon.
Broadcast or in a band.

You can use either a band or broadcast application of Diazinon* insecticide and get sure, effective control of wireworms in potatoes, including strains which have developed resistance to some other insecticides.

A broadcast application should be applied within one week of planting and worked into the top 4 to 8 inches or more of soil. Or you can band Diazinon when planting your crop, working the insecticide in well with a fertilizer attachment to a depth of 3 to 6 inches along both sides of the row. Either way, you'll get dependable control of wireworms without residue problems in your potatoes, or in crops like sugar beets which may follow.

With Diazinon, there are no restrictions on allowing workers to enter treated fields. And you don't have to wear special protective clothing or devices when working with Diazinon.

But you will get effective control of wireworms and other soil insects. So your crop is protected against yield and quality losses.

This year, don't take chances with wireworms. Apply Diazinon and be sure of effective wireworm control... without fear of insecticidal residues in your potatoes.

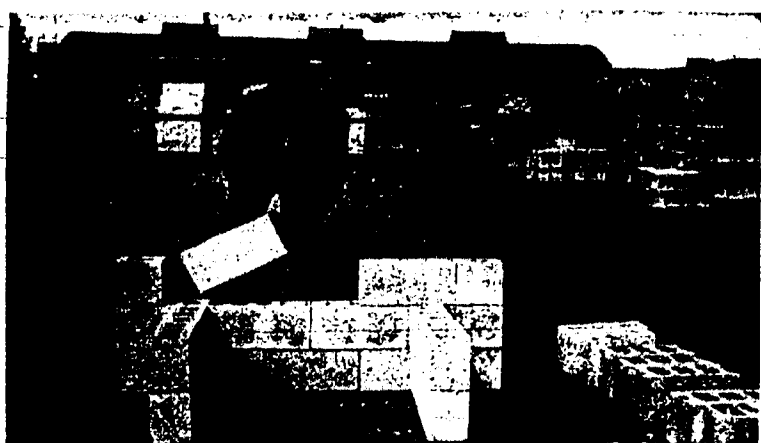

See your supplier for Diazinon or write us for more information.

Shoshone FFA Chapter Gets Community Service Award

The Shoshone chapter Future Farmers received the Community Service Award at the state FFA convention in Meridian March 31 and April 1-2.

The community service award consisted of a certificate and a check for $100. Shoshone FFA President Terry Johnson accepted the award on behalf of the Shoshone chapter.

The chapter won the award for activities conducted during the past year, including 239 radio programs broadcast over two radio stations, three television programs, community demonstrations, Shoshone FFA newsletter mailed to 250 Lincoln County farmers and other activities.

Officials at the state convention announced that the Shoshone chapter received a superior rating for the chapter's various activities during the past year.

The Shoshone FFA parliamentary team placed third in the state FFA parliamentary contest, held the first day of the convention. First place was won by the North Fremont chapter, second by the Parma chapter and fourth place by the Bonners Ferry chapter.

Members of the Shoshone team were Terry Johnson, Evan Gooch, Daniel Faught, Kip Mills, Richard Tews and Ronald Croft. Team alternates were Clarence Tews and Gary Larson.

Shoshone FFA president Terry Johnson received his state farmer degree during the second day of the convention. The state farmer degree is the highest FFA degree that may be obtained on the state level.

Only two per cent of the state membership may receive the degree each year. To receive the state farmer degree, a member must be active in leadership, supervised farming and scholarship.

Richard Tews received a $200 Union Pacific scholarship during the first day of the convention. An FFA member and 4-H member in each county served by the Union Pacific railroad may receive the scholarship each year. The scholarship is based on supervised farming.

"A Land Bank loan on our part-time farm? Are you sure?"

"At first, I thought my husband was kidding. But it's true. I learned that all part-time farmers can apply for a long-term Federal Land Bank loan through their local Association. You have to have steady off-farm income, a home on your farm property, and some farm income. You can get low-cost loans for off-farm needs, too. Taxes, for example. Medical bills. Education. For lots of purposes. With your loan you're a part owner in the Federal Land Bank system. This gives you a voice in Association management. You share in earnings. And you deal with local people you know and respect. Am I ever thankful for the Land Bank. Tell your part-time farm friends. It's a loan at lowest possible cost—plus those ownership benefits."

CLEAN UP QUACKGRASS BEFORE PLANTING CORN

Cytrol gives quick, economical control of profit-robbing weeds

Quackgrass can cut into corn yields and profits by competing with corn plants for water and nutrients in the soil.

The most practical way to lick the problem is by spraying the area to be planted—with Cytrol Amitrole-T. With its systemic action Cytrol gives a thorough kill of the entire weed plant—leaves, stems, roots and all. Yet Cytrol will not sterilize the soil. Where Cytrol is used on corn land it is possible to plant to a different crop the following year. Or the land can be re-treated and planted to corn again.

Cytrol should be applied to corn land when quackgrass is 4" to 6" tall and actively growing. Wait two weeks, then plow and prepare a seed bed. Plant corn immediately.

Cytrol is convenient to use. It presents no hazards to those handling it... requires no mechanical sprayer agitation. And—unlike some materials—causes no injury to following crops such as sugar beets, beans, etc.

NON-CROPLAND AREAS. Many growers are using Cytrol along with a soil sterilant for a spring clean up of weeds around edges of fields, fence rows, ditch-banks, around buildings and other areas.

AMINO TRIAZOLE. If you prefer to use a soluble powder in your spray mixes; Amino Triazole is available in 4 lb. and 24 lb. containers.

Consult your local agricultural authorities or herbicide supplier for further information.

Before using any pesticide, stop and read the label. American Cyanamid Company, Los Angeles, Oakland, Portland.

Available in 1 gallon and 5 gallon polyethylene jugs.

Weed Program

April 11 is the opening date of the noxious weed program, Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls County ASC committee, announced.

Farmers wishing to share costs in this program must make application before the work is started.

Boyd added the farmer should contact his county weed bureau—fieldman before he comes in the office. The fieldman will give him a statement showing the kinds and amounts of materials he needs to do the work.

He must present this certification when he makes application.

Jerome Miss Gets Nod as Western Charolais Queen

It will be "Queen Connie" who will reign for the next year at all important Charolais events in nine Western States and a part of Canada, officials of the Western Charolais Association announced in a communication received in Twin Falls Friday.

Many Foreign Farmers Had Bad Year

WASHINGTON — Plagued by both flood and drought, farmers in Eastern Europe and the USSR had a bad year in 1965. Farm production dropped .5 per cent from 1964, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported on March 18.

Drought also hampered farm production in India and Australia, and mainland China had few, if any, gains in production. Other facts from the USDA report on foreign farming:

Grain production was down sharply in USSR.

Livestock products production was up in the USSR.

The USSR's seven-year plan was a bust. It aimed for a 70 per cent boost, but the annual gain was less than two per cent.

In Poland and Rumania production was favorable, but poor in East Germany, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

Military Services Cut Use of Pork

WASHINGTON (AP) — High prices have led the military services to cut their use of prime pork products in half, the Defense Department said Wednesday.

The Pentagon disclosed that a memorandum ordering the reduction went out Feb. 17 to the Army, Navy, Air Force and the Defense Supply Agency which procures goods for the services.

The memorandum directed the services to reduce by 50 per cent the number of servings of such pork products as bacon, ham and chops for the next six months. This applies only to U.S. military installations.

The services were told to use such items as poultry, eggs, sausage, turkey, seafood and selected beef items more often to minimize the impact of military food purchases on consumer prices.

Last month, the Pentagon directed the Army and Air Force to stop buying butter and switch to margarine.

Butter has risen to about 70 cents a pound while the Defense Department could get margarine at 16 cents a pound.

The Navy was not affected by the switch to margarine.

A Defense Supply Agency spokesman said it would be difficult to estimate what savings will result from the prime pork switch because any of several other items may be substituted in the military ration.

But the agency provided figures showing that the price it pays for bacon went up 65 per cent between 1964 and 1965.

The agency, a sort of wholesaler of common use items for the services, paid about 35 cents a pound for bacon the last six months of 1964. During the same period last year it paid more than 58 cents a pound.

For ham, the agency paid 56 cents a pound in the last half of 1965, compared with 1964's 45 cents.

The changeover from butter to margarine is expected to save $6.48 million a year, the Pentagon said.

Does the Pentagon officially consider margarine as good as butter?

"Nutritionally," an official said, "they are equal."

J. I. CASE CO., a leading manufacturer of agricultural and construction equipment, has announced that it has signed an agreement to purchase this 600,000-square-foot manufacturing plant located on a 220-acre site just north of the Terre Haute, Ind., city limits.

J. I. Case Names Hill As Chairman

RACINE, Wis. — Directors of J. I. Case Co. elected Merritt D. Hill as chairman of the board and, to succeed him as president, named Charles A. Anderson, formerly president of Walker Manufacturing Co., Racine, Wis. Hill is a former resident of Twin Falls and Jerome and is well known in this area. He has visited here many times since becoming head of the Case Co. As chairman, Hill succeeds Samuel B. Payne, partner in Morgan Stanley and Co., New York, who remains chairman of the executive committee. "The selection of Anderson as president will greatly strengthen J. I. Case Co.," Hill said. The contribution he is capable of making to our company will be of inestimable value. Before becoming president of Walker Manufacturing Co. here in 1964, Anderson was a vice president of Kern County Land Co., parent firm of both Walker and Case.

Farmers in 1980 Will Need to Invest $200,000

WASHINGTON — By 1980 a commercial farmer will need from $50,000 to $100,000 outside capital and "a total investment of at least $200,000 will be necessary for the family farm," according to Glenn G. Browne, deputy governor of Farm Credit Administration. He went on to predict that farmers' credit needs as of 1980 will be as much as $79 billion, or almost double the present amount. Total credit to farmers at the first of this year was 10 per cent above that of a year ago, standing at $39.4 billion. Browne said the farm economy is healthy with farm assets at a record $253 billion.

February Beef Production Down From January

BOISE — Beef production during February was 13,956,000 pounds, compared with 15,932,000 pounds produced in January. The average liveweight of cattle slaughtered during the month, at 1,039 pounds, was 11 pounds heavier than a month earlier, but 13 pounds lighter than a year ago. Veal production during February was placed 14,000 pounds, compared with 32,000 pounds in January. The average liveweight of calves slaughtered during the month was the same as a year ago, but 28 pounds lighter than last month.

Processing of Potatoes Well Above Last Year

BOISE — Potato processing in Idaho (plus Idaho potatoes processed in Malheur County, Oregon) from July through February accounted for 23,262,000 hundred weight of raw potatoes, according to reports compiled from processors. Of this, 22,237,000 hundred weight were used in the manufacture of food products and 1,025,000 hundred weight for starch, flour and alcohol. Of the 23,262,000 hundred weight processed, about 4,374,000 hundred weight came from the 10 southwest counties of Idaho, 16,937,000 from the "other counties" area of Idaho, and 1,951,000 were shipped into Idaho from other states. The total quantity of potatoes used in processing during the first eight months of this marketing season was 43 per cent larger than the amount used during the same period last year — usage for food products was up 41 per cent while starch, flour and alcohol accounted for more than twice the amount used a year earlier.

Grassman Committee Holds Meeting to Decide Plans

Harvey Quesnell, Twin Falls, was re-elected chairman of the Twin Falls County Grassman-of-the-Year Committee at a recent meeting held at the Rogerson Hotel. Donald Youtz, Twin Falls County extension agent, also was re-elected as secretary of the committee. The meeting was a luncheon-meeting with the Idaho state grassman-of-the-year committee.

Hugh Hough, Boise, chairman of the State Grassman-of-the-Year Committee was among the guests. Other state committee members present included Doyle Scott, administrative officer of the Soil Conservation Commission, Boise, L. L. Williams, University of Idaho extension service, Moscow, and Delbert Fallon, Bureau of Land Management, Boise.

Local committee members present included Earl Haroldson, Idaho Power Co., Twin Falls; Clarence Hedricks, Soil Conservation Service, Twin Falls; Richard Stafford, Twin Falls County Farm Bureau, Kimberly; Edwin Shaff, Fidelity National Bank of Twin Falls, Filer; William Little and George Fry, U. S. Forest Service; Glenn Nelson, representative of the Twin Falls soil conservation district, and John Noh, representative of Idaho Wool Growers Association, Kimberly.

Preliminary plans are now under way for the activities of the Twin Falls County Grassman-of-the-Year Committee. The next meeting will be in June to de-

Ind., city limits. It is anticipated that the plant will have a work force of 400 to 500 and that production will begin early in 1967. Initially, components for the Case line of construction equipment will be fabricated at the new facility.

Manufacturing Plant to Be Purchased by J. I. Case

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. — J. I. Case Co., Racine, Wis., manufacturer of agricultural and construction equipment, announced it has agreed to purchase a 600,000-square-foot manufacturing plant here. No purchase price was announced. The facility is located on a 220-acre site just north of the city limits and formerly was operated by Allis-Chalmers, Milwaukee, Wis. Case Co. has several other manufacturing plants throughout the country, four overseas and has over 13,000 employees world-wide.

Case plans to use the Indiana location to relieve production pressures at its other U.S. plants. Initially, some components for the Case line of construction equipment will be fabricated at the newly acquired facility.

"Due to increased demand for Case construction equipment, immediate expansion is necessary and the procurement of an existing facility is considered more practical and expeditious than adding on to an existing plant or building a new one," said Merritt D. Hill, chairman of the board of Case Co. He continued, "From all we have been able to determine Terre Haute seems to have an adequate supply of labor. We are looking forward to becoming a good corporate citizen in this community as we are in all of our other plant cities." Hill said that Case Co. anticipates an employee total of 400 to 500 when the Terre Haute plant gets into operation early in 1967. He added that while the new plant will be filled by men from other Case operations, most of the management and hourly workers would be recruited from the local area. Hill also emphasized that this new operation will in no way adversely affect employment at any other Case plant.

Polling Places Set for Soil District Vote

Polling places will be open at the vocational-agricultural room of Kimberly High School and the Twin Falls County Extension Agent's Office, 634 Addison Ave. W., Twin Falls, for voting on the new proposed Snake River Soil and Water Conservation District.

The polling places will be open April 19 from 1-8 p.m. on the proposition of the creation of the Snake River Soil and Water Conservation District as a governmental subdivision and a public body, corporate and politic, under the provisions of the soil conservation districts law of Idaho.

All qualified electors who own land or reside within the boundaries of the said territory are eligible to vote. Only such qualified electors are eligible to vote. Eligible voters residing within the proposed district should cast their ballots at the polling place most convenient to them.

Milkfat Prices Up 10 Cents From Last Year

BOISE — Dairymen in Idaho received an average of 96 cents per pound of milkfat in milk used for American cheese during February — 10 cents more than a year earlier. The average price of milk, at $3.53 per hundredweight, was up six cents from the January price. Milk used for American cheese tested 3.68 per cent milkfat, compared with 3.73 per cent a month earlier.

For February milk going into butter, Idaho dairy farmers received 91 cents per pound of milkfat, compared with 86 cents a year ago. The price of milk for butter during February averaged $3.60 per hundredweight, down two cents from January. The milkfat test was 3.95 per cent, compared with 4.06 per cent a month earlier.

Mike Quesnell Elected President of Idaho FFA

Mike Quesnell, graduate of Twin Falls High School, was on top of the heap today as president of the Idaho Association of the Future Farmers of America.

As president, he heads an organization of 71 chapters, numbering more than 3,300 members.

Mike, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Quesnell, Route 1, Twin Falls, is now a freshman at the University of Idaho. His election to the top post of the organization climaxed five years in the FFA organization and took place at the 35th annual state convention at Meridian last week.

He is the first state president to come from Twin Falls since 1936-37, when Melvin Ehlers was elevated to that post, according to John Lawrence, vocational agriculture instructor at Twin Falls High School.

Lawrence points out the new president was active in 4-H work before joining the Twin Falls FFA Chapter, and "he quickly recognized the value of leadership training and worked hard to improve himself and the local chapter by participating in almost every activity available."

"He was named area winner in the bean growing contest in 1962, resulting in his participation in the American Institute of Cooperatives convention in Lincoln, Neb., in the summer of 1963," Lawrence said.

Records show that he served the local FFA chapter as assistant reporter in 1963-64 and vice president in 1964-65. He received his State Farmer Degree as a junior in 1964.

At the 1965 state convention he received the Union Pacific Railroad scholarship and was named winner of the state FFA Foundation Award in livestock farming.

"Throughout all four years of vocational agriculture, he participated in many district and state contests," Lawrence said. "He tried for a state office in 1965, but was unsuccessful. This year, however, he came out on top."

Personally, Lawrence attributes much of Quesnell's success to "hard work and a determination to accomplish a lot of things."

"Mike is first to admit," Lawrence said, "that none of his gains would have been possible without the strong support of his parents and the strong competition he received throughout his high school FFA activities by one of his close friends, Lyle Fuller, out-going state vice president."

Production of Red Meat Down From January

BOISE—The production of red meat by commercial slaughter plants in Idaho during February is estimated at 14,944,000 pounds by the USDA crop reporting service for Idaho. This is 13 per cent below last month's output of 17,139,000 pounds.

The accumulative production of red meat for January through February this year totaled 32,063,000 pounds. Commercial meat production includes slaughter in federally inspected and other commercial plants, but excludes animals slaughtered on a farm or ranch.

Runoff Percentage Predicted to Be Better This Year at Forecast Meets

OAKLEY—Runoff percentage will be better than average this year because of high soil moisture status beneath the snow pack, Morlan Nelson, Idaho snow survey supervisor, reported during the annual water forecast meetings at Oakley recently.

Forecast meetings were held at Oakley and Malta. The meeting at Oakley, sponsored by the West Cassia Soil Conservation District, was held to an impromptu outdoor session due to a power outage in the vicinity at that time.

The 1965 irrigation season forecast for Oakley Canal Co. water users was estimated at 13.3 inches per share. Basis for this forecast was computed from the following: Inflow from the end of the 1965 irrigating season to March 1 was 21,116 acre feet; the estimated runoff from March 1 to Sept. 30 is 16,500 acre feet, giving a total of 37,616 acre feet. About 60 per cent of this total will be delivered because of loss in the delivery system, bringing a total delivery of 22,500 acre feet or the 13.3 inches per share.

Runoff forecast is computed from data obtained during the winter by the Soil Conservation Service from snow surveys and soil moisture station readings located throughout the watersheds. Data is relatively accurate as indicated by previous year's forecasts.

In 1965 the forecast for the March-September flow into the Oakley reservoir was 38,000

February Pork Production Down 18 Per Cent

BOISE—Pork production during February, of 942,000 pounds, was down nearly 18 per cent from the 1,143,000 pounds produced in January.

Average liveweight of hogs killed during the month was 226 pounds, compared with an average of 217 pounds a year ago and 239 pounds last month. There were 32,000 pounds of lamb and mutton produced during February—the same as a month ago. Average liveweight of sheep and lambs was up one pound from last month and three pounds from a year ago.

Horse Stalls

EMMETT — Forty new horse stalls are being constructed in a new building at the Gem County fairgrounds in Emmett to keep pace with the influx of some of the West's top horses in training for the Gem State Futurity and spring parimutuel race meet June 4-5 and 11-12.

The futurity's first running will highlight the four-day meet, with finals scheduled for the last day. The Emmett race meet is sanctioned by the American Quarter Horse Association.

The water supply forecast for the Malta area for 1966 presented in the evening meeting, indicated about 15 to 20 per cent below normal for Raft River and Cassia Creek stream flow.

Nelson stated that the stream gaging stations have been shifted and as records are gathered, forecasts can be made more accurately in the future on Cassia Creek especially. He discussed the need of finding out more in the future about the relationship of precipitation and snow depths to the water table of the area.
